ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

Words fail me to express my deep sense of gratitude to my esteemed teacher Dr. S.R.K. Chopra, M.Sc., Ph.D. (Zurich), University Professor & Head, Department of Anthropology, Panjab University, Chandigarh for introducing me to the subject and keenly supervising the entire work leading to the completion of this manuscript. I consider it a fortunate experience and a pleasant opportunity to carry out this work under his able guidance. I am extremely grateful to him for providing excellent laboratory facilities, his much valuable advice and encouraging interest during the course of present study. I also thank him for very generously allowing to consult some of the rare literature of his personal library.

I am indeed indebted to Dr. Surya Prakash, University Lecturer and Incharge, Primatology Laboratory for his valuable criticism and suggestions during the write up of the present study. I very sincerely thank him for his all-out help.

I would also like to thank Dr. Inderjit Dewan, Professor of Anatomy, Postgraduate Institute of Medical Education and Research, Chandigarh and Visiting Professor in Physical Anthropology at the University for his kind help.

Thanks are also due to Mr. V.M. Datta, Radiographer for preparing the radiographs and Mr. V.K. Jain for his help in the photographic work.

My sincere appreciations to my friends and colleagues at the Department, especially Dr. Mohan Singh, Mr. K.K. Bagai, Mr. Baldev Singh, Dr. R. Malhotra and C.J. Edwin for extending help in various ways.
