Aim and Objectives
3.0 AIMS AND OBJECTIVES

The aims and objectives of present study were to analyze the following aspects that might be associated with the etiology of T2DM in Khatri Sikh population of Northern India.

1. Recruitment of 300 patients with chronic type 2 diabetes and 300 non-diabetic controls from Khatri Sikh population of Northern India.

2. Quantitative estimations of total lipid profile, creatinine, insulin and glycosylated hemoglobin in serum.

4. Statistical analysis to correlate the affects of gene polymorphisms with the quantitative risk factors of type 2 diabetes and its related complications.