The day after tomorrow is my mother's birthday. All of us have planned to offer food to monks for lunch and releasing birds and fish, and go to the temple to listen to sermons. Mother agreed and said that it was a good idea. The wat is near our house.

That evening my mother, my father, my sister and I will be going shopping at the market. During this time my brother will be cleaning the dishes, spoons, forks, glasses and the cups before we use them.

In the evening my mother and I will be preparing flowers and other offerings for the monks such as candles, and incense-sticks. Tomorrow night my cousins and relatives will come to our house and we will be having dinner together.

The day after tomorrow, we will get up very early because we will have to offer food to the monks in the morning. After breakfast we will be preparing food and getting everything ready for going to the wat.

After lunch, my father and mother will be offering food to the monks and releasing birds and fish. Then the ceremony will be ending with the monk singing and blessings to everybody there.
