Acknowledgement

This thesis is the product of constant guidance, support and encouragement of many people and I would like to express my gratitude to all those, for providing me the possibilities to complete it.

First of all I would like to thank God for blessing me to complete this work. I take this opportunity to express my deep sense of gratitude and profound reverence to my esteemed supervisor, Dr. Vishav Raksha, Associate Professor, Department of Sociology, University of Jammu, under whose inspiration and able guidance I undertook this task and gave it the present shape. I sincerely appreciate her constant involvement, painstaking efforts and affectionate nature. It was both a privilege and honour to work with her. Without her constant supervision and guidance, it would not have been possible to complete the work. Her involvement from my admission to submission of the thesis was so deep that I have no words to express my gratefulness.

I am extremely thankful to the Head of the Department, Prof. Abha Chauhan, who has always inspired me through her valuable suggestions and untiring support during the course of this work. Her wisdom, knowledge and aspiration towards highest standards inspired and motivated me.

I would also like to express my sincere gratitude to rest of the faculty members of my department Dr. Suresh Babu, Dr. Hema Gandotra, Dr. Sapna Sagra and Dr. Shveta Sharma for their valuable help and suggestions during my research work.

I am highly indebted and obliged to non-teaching staff of the Department of Sociology for their help and co-operation during my Ph.D tenure. I would also like to thank Ms. Mithu Bilowria, the librarian of the departmental library, for providing the required books whenever needed and also for support during my research work.
I am thankful to Mr. Om Prakash for providing me company to visit the villages to meet the respondents and enabling interaction with them. I am also grateful to all the women sarpanches and panchayat members for their cooperation, time and for providing me the required information.

I express my deepest and soulful thanks to my dearest friends Shreeya Bakshi, Shelly Sabharwal, Ajay Sharma and Raman Jamwal for their all time support and encouragement. They have always been there whenever I needed them. They always take out time from their busy schedule to help me.

I would like to thank my batchmates Varsha, Shakun, Monica, Nasir, Tarun and all the senior scholars for their help and co-operation during my research work. I am also thankful to my junior research scholars Priyanka, Ruhi, Suraj Mohani, Raveena, Swati, Neetika, Romi, Ruchi, Richa, Shaista, Tsering Jolden, Arun, Shamsher, Ramesh, Gopal, Mohsin and many more for their support and encouragement.

Last but not the least I express my inexplicable and soulful thanks to my parents for their encouragement, sacrifice, blessings, unremitting cooperation and unparallel inspiration during the course of my study. I am also thankful to my brother and sisters for their support during the course of my study.

I conclude with my sincere thanks to all those who extended their help in word or deed in one way or the other in accomplishment of this task.
