ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

In the course of preparing this thesis, intellectual debt has been incurred to many authors, teachers, colleagues, officials and friends spread over various parts of the country. It gives me great pleasure to acknowledge them all and I avail myself of this opportunity to place them on record.

I acknowledge my deepest gratitude and regards to Dr. Abdul Aziz, Professor, Economics Unit, Institute for Social and Economic Change (ISEC), Bangalore, under whose most able, experienced and scholarly guidance the thesis has been written. But for his able guidance I very much doubt whether I would have completed this work. I profusely thank him for the kindness and encouragement which he has given to me during the course of this work.

I have benefitted greatly from the comments made on the draft thesis by Dr. V.M. Rao, Professor and Head, Rural Economics Unit, ISEC, Bangalore, Dr. P. Salih, Professor and Head, Department of Economics, University of Agricultural Sciences, Bangalore, Dr. R.S. Deshpande, Reader, Gokhale Institute of Politics and Economics, Pune, and I wish to express my profound gratitude to them.

Thanks are also due to Shri. T.R. Sathischandran, Director, ISEC, Bangalore, Dr. G. Thimmaiah, Economic Advisor, Government of Karnataka, Prof. D.T. Nanjegowda, Head, Department of Economics, Bangalore University, Bangalore, Dr. Hanumantharayappa, Dr. M.V. Nadkarni, Dr. H.G. Hanumappa, Dr. Hemlata Rao and Dr. Rameswar Tandon, Professors ISEC, Bangalore, Dr. K.C. Sankaranarayanan, Professor and Head, Department of Applied Economics, Cochin University of Science and Technology, Cochin, Mr. V. Mohanasundaram, Asst. Professor, P.S.G. College of Arts and Science, Coimbatore for their suggestions and encouragements at various stages of my work.

I express my thanks to those Ph.D. students of ISEC and my colleagues at Kerala Agricultural University who have helped me in various ways. My sincere thanks to Prof. Gopala Menon, Mrs. U. Jayalakshmi and Mr. P.V. Babu who helped me in editing the draft thesis.
In the course of my research work I have made use of the facilities of the libraries of ISEC, Bangalore, Centre for Development Studies, Trivandrum, Department of Economics and Statistics, Trivandrum, State Planning Board, Trivandrum, Kerala Agricultural University, Trichur, Department of Rural Development, Krishi Bhavan, New Delhi. I am grateful to the staff of these libraries for the wholehearted help they have extended to me in completing this work.

I am grateful to Indian Council for Social Science Research (ICSSR), New Delhi, for the Doctoral Fellowship awarded to me to carry out this work. I also extend my thanks towards ISEC, Bangalore, for all the facilities which I have enjoyed there as a research student. I wish to record my thanks towards Kerala Agricultural University for all the facilities which I have been enjoying since my joining there as a Faculty Member.

I also thank the staff at District Rural Development Agency Offices of Kozhikode and Wynad districts and at Block Development Offices of Panthalayani and Mananthavady. Special thanks are due to the sample respondents of my study who cooperated with me in conducting the study.

I am particularly obliged to Mr. Krishnachandra, ISEC, Bangalore, who promptly processed the data on computer. Mr. Govinda Rao, Mr. Srinivasa Moorthy and Mr. Lonan deserve thanks for typing assistance.

My loving thanks to my Mother who shared my agonies and ecstacies during the course of my academic pursuits, without her affectionate encouragement I would have never completed this task.

Finally to my wife Dr. Lizy, who provided the spiritual and intellectual inspiration to persevere under difficult circumstances, I can do no more than reassert my endless love.

A.M. JOSE