ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

On completion of my thesis, I feel that it is not only my duty but also delight to remember and acknowledge the encouragement, inspiration, support, and help received from a large number of intellectuals, individuals, institutions, and near-n-dear ones during the course of my research work.

It gives me immense pleasure to express my sense of deep reverence and gratitude to Dr. C. S. Nanjundaiah, under whose guidance and supervision, I have successfully completed my research work. He always kept open his personal library for my use. He gave me academic freedom to pursue my research studies and strengthened my arguments with his insightful ideas and logical comments. He also helped me greatly as the Director of DVS Research Centre in English and as the Principal of DVS College, Shimoga. I would rest grateful to him forever. I would also wholeheartedly thank Mrs. Nanjundaiah for her warm welcome and kind treatment.

I am deeply grateful to the UGC, New Delhi, especially to Dr. (Mrs.) Manju Singh, Deputy Secretary and Regional Head (Karnataka and Kerala States), UGC–South Western Regional Office, Bangalore, for providing me a rare opportunity to undertake the research project under the FIP during the X plan period for two and a half years from April 2005 to October 2007.

I owe my gratitude to Dr. B.S. Sherigar, the then Director of the CDC and presently the Vice-Chancellor of Kuvempu University for his painstaking help and support. I also take this opportunity to thank the authorities of the Department of Collegiate Education and the Regional Joint Director, Shimoga; and the Director of the CDC; and the staff of both the offices for their needful actions in allowing me to take up my research work under FIP.

I would specially remember the deep concern and timely help extended to me by Dr. V. B. Mathad, Joint Director of Collegiate Education, Bangalore, and Prof. H. A. Bhixavarthi Math, SJVP Autonomous College, Harihar, and thank them wholeheartedly.

I am greatly thankful to Mr. G. Mallesh, President, Mr. R. R. Kantharaj, Secretary, and all the Directors and the Members of the Management, Poura Seva Samithi ®, Harihar, for kindly permitting me to avail myself of study leave to take up research work. I would specially remember the support extended to me by Mr. S. Prasanna Kumar, Director, Poura Seva Samithi ®, Harihar, and sincerely thank him for the same.

I would extend my sincere thanks to Prof. S. H. Pyati, Principal, SGRKSFGW College, Harihar, for his encouragement. I recall the co-operation extended to me by all the colleagues. I also recall the concern of the Principal and Staff of SGRK P.U. College, Harihar. I am thankful to Prof. G. M. Nirmala for her support. I am thankful to Dr. H. Rajeshwari and Ms. Madhumathi Nijaguna for taking pains in translating a few articles from Hindi to Kannada for me. I am immensely thankful to Mr. K.N. Chandrashekhar, Secretary, SVS Institutions, Davanagere, for his help and support.
Dr. B. M. Hosur, Principal, and all the Members of the Staff of D.V.S. College of Arts and Science, Shimoga, extended their kind co-operation to me all through the period of my research work in the DVS Research Centre in English and I am greatly thankful to all of them. I also thank Prof. Padmanabh for translating an article for me from Hindi to Kannada.

The help of some librarians, libraries, and their staff in the collection of material for my research work has been invaluable. Dr. Ramakrishnagowda, Chief Librarian, Kuvempu University, Shankarghatta; Dr. M. Kanakachari, Chief Librarian, CIEFL, Hyderabad; Dr. Muttaiah Kogganurumath, Chief Librarian, JNU, Delhi; and Mr. G. Kumarappa, Asst. Librarian, the National Library, Kolkata have helped me a lot and I thank all of them wholeheartedly. I also remember the kind treatment of Mrs. Kumarappa and their daughter Kum. Divya, when I was in Kolkata for collection of material. I sincerely thank the Chief Librarians of Jamia Milia Islamia University, Delhi; University of Delhi, Delhi; Calcutta University, Kolkata; and Madurai Kamaraj University, Madurai for their help and co-operation in permitting me to use their libraries for my collection of material. I would also thank the Chief Librarian and all the other members of the staff of the DVS College Library, Shimoga, and the SGRKSFGW College Library, Harihar, for their cooperation.

Dr. Rajendra Chenni, Chairman, Department of P.G. Studies in English and Research, Kuvempu University, has always helped me in many ways, enquired me about my progress in research work, and made me vigilant. I sincerely express my deep sense of gratitude to him for his help and concern. I remain thankful to my friend, Prof. B. H. Nagyanaik, for his untiring help and support. I am also thankful to Prof. Dattatreya and all the other members of the staff of the P.G. Department of English, Kuvempu University, for their co-operation.

Dr. M. Asaduddin, Professor of English in JMIU, Delhi, gave me useful information about partition literature. Dr. Harish Narang, Head of the P.G Department of English in JNU, Delhi, gave me a suggestion on including as many short stories as available in the purview of my research studies. Dr. Ransubhe Suryanarayan, Retired Professor of Hindi from Latur, Maharashtra, helped me a lot in procuring a Xerox copy of his Hindi book on partition fiction. He also sent me a brief note of introduction to short stories on Partition. Dr. Masoodul Hasan, Retired Professor of the P.G Department of English in Aligarh University, Aligarh responded positively to my queries on partition stories. My correspondence with him proved useful to me. Dr. Nikhila Haritsa has also helped me by sending some articles on Partition and a copy of her thesis to me. I would gladly credit all these intellectuals for their invaluable help.

My co-researchers, Mr. C. Channappa aroused my desire to take up research work and helped me a lot by allowing me to use his computer and Internet, and Mr. GR. Hegde accompanied me in my trips to different libraries and was with me in all the other research activities. I thank both of them for their help and company in all my research endeavours. I would wholeheartedly thank Prof. M.V. Veena, HOD of English, GFGC, Kadur, for taking great pains in proof-reading my thesis.
I remember with gratitude the moral support and encouragement of all the English teachers of Kuvempu University and of a large group of well wishers and friends—Prof. G. M. Basavaraj, Dr. B. Y. Patil, Prof. B. S. Prakash, Prof. C. V. Patil, Prof. Veeragowda, Prof. A. B. Ramachandrappa, Prof. H. M. Vedamurthy Aradhya, Prof. K. S. Eshwarppa, Prof. V. S. Shekhar, Prof. M. S. Nagaraja Rao, Prof. D. S. Manjunath, Prof. Gayithridevi Sajjan, Prof. C. P. Sudhambika, Prof. Ameen, Prof. M. G. Shashidhar, Prof. G. Thimmegowda, Prof. Sajjath, Prof. Veeranaik, Prof. Gourishankar, Prof. J. A. Sitaram, Mr. Satyanarayana Prakash, Mr. S. B. Hullatti, Ms. Sujatha T. D., Ms. Vinoda H., Ms. Sulochana S. L., and others.

I would express my reverence to my parents and other relatives for their boundless love and support. I would remember the cooperation extended to me by my wife, Mrs. K. M. Nalini and my children, Kum. B. M. Anitha Bamani and Kum. B. M. Amitha Bamani, and thank them with love.

I will be failing in my duty if I do not recall the excellent services of MVS Printers, Kote Road, Shimoga, in DTP work, printing, and binding of this thesis neatly.

I thank once again, at the end, all my well wishers, friends, and relatives who have made this research work possible by helping me either directly or indirectly. Any omission in this brief acknowledgement does not mean lack of gratitude. However, owing complete responsibility for any omissions that might have crept in, I pray to be pardoned.
