ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I wish to express my sincere thanks to Dr.A.Ramesh, Professor and Head, Department of Geography, University of Madras, for giving me this opportunity to do my doctoral programme and providing sufficient facilities. I also wish to thank University authorities for the financial support extended to me.

I express my profound gratitude and thanks to (Late) Dr.K.C.Manoharan, Reader, Department of Defence and Strategic Studies, University of Madras for his guidance, continued encouragement and counselling.

I wish to express my sincere thanks to Dr.S.Subbiah, Professor, Department of Geography, University of Madras for encouragement and several suggestions in my study.

The words are insufficient to thank Dr.V.K.Padmanabhan, Professor, Anna Centre for Public Affairs for guiding me through this programme. Without his constant guidance it would not have been possible for me to complete this work successfully.

My thanks are also due to Dr.P.S.Tiwari, Dr.N.Sivagnanam and Mr.A.Rajmohan in the Department of Geography for their support. I also wish to acknowledge the help rendered by Mr.K.Rajendran. I thank Prof. R.N.Swarup, Dr.Gopalji Malaviya and Mr.A.Thenararsu in Department of Defence and Strategic Studies for their help and suggestions.

I wish to thank Dr.R.Thandavan, Professor and Head, Dr.G. Krishnamurthy, Dr.P.Ravishankar and Mr.S.Ramesh Anna Centre for Public Affairs for their kind help.
I place on record my sincere thanks to Dr.V.Suryanarayanan, Centre for South and South East Asia, Dr.R.Balasubramanian, Professor and Head, Department of Politics and Public Administration for their encouragement and advice.

My special thanks are due to Mr.P.Balakrishnan, Scientists-B, National Remote Sensing Agency, Hyderabad who provided me map information for the thesis. My sincere thanks to Dr.R.Jaganathan for his cartographic help.

I acknowledge with a deep sense of gratitude, the following Government Agencies for providing data and relevant documentation source in the form of books, journals and reports: Sri Lanka High Commission, New Delhi, Defence Service Staff College, Wellington and Institute of Defence Studies Analysis (IDSA) New Delhi. The individuals affiliated to the Departments are numerous to thank everyone, who rendered valuable help and service and so I thank them very heartily.

I wish to express my sincere thanks to the Vice Chancellor, Registrar and Administration Staff for their unfailing co-operation for me to complete this work successfully.

My heartful thanks are to Mr.T.S.Subramaniam from Frontline, who helped patiently and responded in giving the voluminous information and particulars needed for the study. I wish to thank Mr.B.N.Mukesh, Department of Statistics for his assistance.

My friends and colleagues from Department of Geography, Department Defence and Strategic Studies and Anna Centre for Public Affairs, University of Madras have assisted me in several different ways and I owe them thanks and deep gratitude. Dr.Tamilzoli, Dr.Xaviar Raj, Department of Anthropology deserve special mention.
I do not know how to express my deep sense of thanks to my sister Miss. R. Lakshmi Prabha, who volunteered meticulous help at the crucial stage of my thesis submission.

My family members deserve very many thanks and all my fond love for cherishing me and helping me all along with my studies. I found no words to express my deep sense of gratitude for them in my long years of education.
