"This is the day the Lord has made. Let me exult and be thankful in it"

First I want to extend my utmost gratitude to Lord for blessing me daily and opening windows when it felt like door had been closed. Without Him, none of this would be possible and I honor and acknowledge Him in all things.

I am extremely indebted to my Guide Dr. Geetha. C who swayed me to take this thesis voyage with her. She has been a constant source of motivation and encouragement. Throughout the process she has been a calming influence when I was anxious, a source of energy when I was drained, and a grounding force when I felt unsettled. This work would not have seen the day, if she would have not encouraged me. I am proud to be as first research student of her.

I owe sincere heartfelt thanks to Dr. Patil. S.S, Chairman, and Dr. Jagannath K. Dange, Assistant professor of the Department of Education, Kuvempu University for their attention to detail, persistence, endless encouragement, guidance, insightful suggestions, and invaluable advice. Their support and encouragement was offered throughout the process and delivered in such a warm and caring manner, which always helped to alleviate any anxiety I was feeling about my progress.

I would like to extend special thanks to vivacious personality of the field of Sociology Professor Rame Gowda, Registrar Evaluation, Kuvempu University for his inspirational support regarding progress of research and his concern about my future.

Furthermore, I want to extend my sincerest thanks to my teacher and colleague Dr. Manjunath. H.P and Dr. Pramod Kumar M.P.M for their kind suggestions and steadfast support. I would express special thanks to my dearest students and colleagues Madhu.G and Darshan.H.M. for their kind support in hard times to deal with the department works. I owe sincere thanks to Sampat, Roopa, Shanmuk of the department and Dhansing Naik, hostel manager for their kind support.

I am grateful for the cooperation of the Head Masters and staff of GHS Durgigudi and GHS B.H. Road who provided their periods and support in their steadfast patience under intense pressure of classes.

I would like to express my heartfelt thanks to Mr. Vinay. K.M, Assistant professor of English, Kuvempu University for his able guidance regarding pattern of research report and language correction, the language of the thesis is mirror of his excellence and adeptness.
I will be eternally grateful to Dr. K. Yashodahara, and an exceptional faculty advisor, Dr. Talwar M.S., for their unwavering support and ongoing guidance throughout the progression of the study. I would also like to thank Dr. Kashinath for his encouragement and his appreciation concerning to my study. Furthermore, I owe a special gratitude to my venerable teacher Dr. Vamadevappa, H.V. who helped me to discover this unique and intrigue topic in the first step of my research work. He has given much time and energy in providing me with the guidance needed to accomplish this research, I have special appreciation and a sense of gratitude towards him. I extend gratefulness to Dr. Pattanashetty for his inspiration. I would also like to thank the members of my doctoral committee, Dr. Shashikala and Dr. Vijay Kumari, Professors, Department of Education, Mangalore University, for their careful attention to detail and timely thoughtful suggestions, their encouragement and insight were very beneficial during the preparation of proposal and Synopsis of the study. I am perpetually grateful to Dr. P. Shilaja Shanbhag, KSOU, Mysore for her patience for word to word correction of the thesis and able suggestions.

I would like to express my special gratitude to mentor Prof. Shantaveerappa and other lecturers of MLMN College of Education, who filled good ethics in me, whose enthusiasm and guidance greatly contributed to the success of this thesis. I am proud to be one of the students of the college.

It will be great pleasure to thank Mr. Valmiki, Librarian and other members of library of Kuvempu University for their kind prop up to have sources from library.

It would be impossible to think that this thesis could have been completed without the support of my husband. He made my life more meaningful. His emotional sustenance at every milestone along the way like anything, I would like to express gratitude to him for his continuous encouragement, strong support to persist to the end. I owe a heartfelt thank you to my enthusiastic family, mother-in-law, father-in-law, other relatives for their patience and ongoing support. Thanks for their unconditional love, unwavering encouragement. In particular I am eternally grateful to my mother-in-law who cared for me lot as mother, her understanding, encouragement, patience, and kindness is priceless. Undoubtedly this research study came to fruition due to her dedicated support and inspiring words like ‘be happy always, if your face is so dreary it hurts me lot, smile in pain also, I am there with you forever’. My sincere thanks to my brother for his tenacious support, love and care. Thanks to My sister and her husband for their support. Love to their diminutive children Sahitya and Rachana whose smile inspires me to live in life. I would like to extend special gratitude to my friends for their inspirational words and encouragement when my spirit was weakened. Their friendship will always be treasured.
