

26. Business & Economic Review (University of South Carolina) 42-, no.1- (July-September 1996-)

38. Davenport, Thomas H. Business process reengineering: where it's been, where it's going. In Business process change: reengineering concepts, methods and technologies. edited by Varun Grover and

45. Embrace change. Executive Edge Newsletter 28, no.6 (June 1997):

48. Feigenbaum, Armand V. No pain, no gain (strategic planning and management). Chief Executive no. 121 (March 1997):

88. Skrabec, Quentin R. Maximizing the benefits of your ISO 9000 campaign. Industrial Engineering

89. Smith, Richard C. Creating a framework for successful reengineering. National Productivity Review 16, no.3 (Summer 1997):

90. Stenzel, Catherine and Joe Stenzel. Revisioning the organization: the King goes to war. Journal of Strategic Performance Measurement 1, no.3 (June-July 1997): 41-47.

Racing to get "outside the box" is great if contact and communication aren't lost with the support units still in the box.