ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

With immense sentiments of appreciation, I hereby wish to express my thankfulness to many people I have come across during the research study.

I particularly wish to acknowledge my indebtedness and heartfelt gratitude to my guide, Dr. Uma Shankar Patnaik, Reader, Department of Economics, Pondicherry University, Pondicherry, for his innovative guidance and friendly co-operation at various stages of the research work. I am greatly indebted to Dr. B. Kamaiah, Reader, Department of Economics, Central University, Hyderabad, who went through the manuscript and provided valuable comments which enabled me to sharpen arguments presented in the study. I am profoundly grateful to Dr. Sham Bhat, Reader, Department of Economics, Pondicherry University, Pondicherry, for extending me his kind help and support at the time of data analysis. My heartfelt gratitude to Dr. E. Karuppaian, Lecturer, Department of Economics, Annamalai University, Chidambaram, for going through the synopsis and giving useful comments with constructive suggestions to make research work methodologically sound.

My sincere thanks are due to Dr. M. Ramadass, Professor and Head, Department of Economics, Pondicherry University, Pondicherry, for his continuous encouragement and academic support. I am thankful to Dr. V. Nirmala, Lecturer, and Dr. Muthaiyan, Reader, Department of Economics, Pondicherry University, for their various assistance. I owe special gratitude to Dr. K.S. Mathew, Professor and Head, Department of History, Pondicherry University, Pondicherry, for his personal interest, concern and constant encouragement.

I am very much obliged to Fr. Patrick Kullu, s.j., former Superior of Madhya Pradesh and Fr. Patras Minj, s.j., Provincial of Madhya Pradesh, who gave me an opportunity to do research and extended every help and support with full trust and confidence. My thanks are due to all the Parish Priests who accepted and accommodated me at their mission stations while conducting the survey. In particular, I would like to express my gratitude to Fr. Michael, Bharia; Fr. Elias, Ghaghra; Fr. Nirmal, Ambakona; Fr. Agustus, Tamamunda; Fr. Ephraim, Tapkara; Fr. Bonifas, Belwa, for their necessary arrangements for survey work. I also thank my Jesuit friends, Schols. Isaac, Dharamsheel, Sanjay, Frs. Fulgence and Athnas, who suffered hunger, thirst and inconveniences to give me brotherly support. My heartfelt thanks flow to Fr. Telesphore, Rector, Kunkuri, and the community members, who accepted me as one of their members. I owe my heartfelt gratitude to the sisters, doctors and nurses of the Holy Cross hospital, Kunkuri, for the loving care and service when I was a patient in the hospital.
My sincere thanks are due to the Collectors of the district, Sub-divisional Magistrates (SDM), Block Development Officers (B.D.O), Bank Managers, Block Officials and village leaders of the blocks, who have obliged their extensive assistance and support during the field survey. I wish to thank some of the important personalities whose cordial co-operation made this study possible.

I am deeply grateful to the Sisters of St. Joseph of Cluny, Lawspet, Pondicherry, for their loving care and concern for me. I am obliged to Sr. Agnes, Principal, for making available the school computers for my work. I am grateful to Frs. Adaiikalaisamy, Correspondent, and A.T. Thomas, Principal, Don Bosco School, Tagore Nagar, Who accepted me in their community and extended various facilities to carry out my research. They also allowed me to have free access to their computer facilities.

I am deeply indebted to Mr. Bharathidasan, who always obliged me to help in data processing. Profound thanks to Mr. Leo, who continuously assisted me in computer-typing the whole thesis since beginning. He remains a special partner in shaping the thesis. I also express my gratitude to Mr. Arasu, who helped me in computer typing. My special appreciation to Mr. A. Sanker, Vaigai Computer Printing, who put his mind and heart to design the whole thesis. My thanks to Mr. Ram Kumar and other non-teaching staff of Economics Department, Pondicherry University, for their generous co-operation.

My warm appreciation to Sr. Treesa Domnic who generously rendered her help in proof reading and gave me every support at the final stage of the thesis. My special thanks to Fr. E.P. Mathew, who went through the manuscript and made some valuable suggestions.

My deep and sincere thanks to Mrs. Victoria Rayappan, who served timely food for me. Over and above she took care of me as her own son. Thanks to her family members who were so cordial to me. It is my pleasure to convey my appreciation to Mr. Emmanuel's family and Mr. Lurdunathan's family for accommodating and providing a homely atmosphere to continue my works. Their affection and acceptance as one of the members in their families gave me incentive to hard labour. I am thankful to Mrs. & Mr. Molly-John for their personal interest, affection and support.

I warmly extend my love and appreciation to all my friends and well wishers who have directly or indirectly helped me in the completion of the research.
