ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

To the many individuals and institutions who helped me in various ways in the completion of this Thesis, I must acknowledge my debt. Foremost among them is Dr. Joginder Singh Dhanki, my supervisor, whose guidance and encouragement have been forthcoming at every stage of my work. His continuous inspiration and keen insight into the problem helped me to complete this project without any hurdle. My thanks are due to Dr. R.C. Jauhari, Dr. R.I. Malhotra, and Dr. C.L. Datta who have always been co-operative during my stay in the department. Dr. Kamal Sheel, Dr. S.K. Bajaj, Dr. Himadri Bannerji and Shri Bhagwan Josh, deserve special mention with whom I took the opportunity to hold discussions on the topic. Dr. Chetan Singh took great pains to read the entire manuscript of my thesis and gave valuable suggestions. My thanks are also due to Shri Surya Kant, a research scholar in the Geography Department, who rendered me sincere help in tabulating the data.

The Indian Council of Historical Research, New Delhi, provided me a contingency grant for collection of material, while the Department of History, Panjab University, Chandigarh, provided assistance in the form of a research fellowship. I remain thankful to them. My thanks are also due to the staff of the National Archives of India, New Delhi, the Punjab State Archives, Patiala, the Haryana State Archives, Chandigarh, the National Library, Calcutta, the Carey Library, Sri Rampur, the Cambridge Brotherhood Library, Delhi, Nehru Memorial Museum and Library, Teen Murti, New Delhi, Gurukul Kangri University Library, Haridwar, Jawahar Lal Nehru University, Library, New Delhi, Guru Nanak Dev University Library, Amritsar, Punjabi University Library, Patiala, the Punjab
I will be failing in duty if I don't express my debt of gratitude to my dear parents, brothers and sisters whose affection, guidance and inspiration encouraged me to venture into the field of historical research and helped me to continue my studies in periods of despair and calamity.

In the end, needless to say that the responsibility for the shortcomings and the views expressed herein remains entirely mine.
