ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I wish to express my sincere gratitude to Dr. Ramesh C. Kanwar, Lecturer in Geology, Panjab University, Chandigarh, under whose supervision and overall guidance the work has been carried out. I am indebted to him for stimulating discussions in free-thinking environment which helped me considerably in clarifying many ideas.

Heartful thanks are due to Professor Dr. I.C. Pande, Director and Head, Centre of Advanced Study in Geology, Panjab University, Chandigarh, for very kindly going through the manuscript, frank and valuable criticism, and for generously providing full research facilities.

I owe a special debt of gratitude to Dr. M.N. Saxena who spared his valuable time in perusing the manuscript. I owe sincere thanks to him for his candid criticism, giving me an access to many research papers from his personal collection, and for the extraordinary interest he took in the execution of the work.

I am grateful to Dr. S.B. Bhatia, Dr. S.P. Jain, Dr. A.K. Prasad and Dr. V.J. Gupta for useful discussions; and to Dr. A.M. Patwardhan for the help he rendered during chemical analyses.

The financial assistance by the Council of Scientific and Industrial Research and the Wadia Institute of Himalayan Geology is acknowledged with gratitude.

My grateful thanks are due to Mr. and Mrs. Gurmej Singh of Chamed (distt. Chamba) who afforded constant hospitality during the course of my field work.

The unfailing assistance rendered by Shri S.P. Kapila, Dr. N.S. Virdi, Shri J.S. Jiwan, Shri Vijender Kumar, Shri A.K. Mathur and Shri H. Rai, at final stages of this work is warmly acknowledged.

Lastly, I express my sincere appreciation to my sister, Jasbir, who very carefully and neatly prepared the plates.
