

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

It is with great pleasure, I express my deep sense of gratitude to my respected and beloved teacher and research supervisor Prof. M. Sivasankaraiah., Department of Economics & Applied Economics, Sri Krishnadevaraya University, Anantapur, whose supervision and guidance have done very much to make this study a very good success. I was lucky enough to carry out this work under his guidance. His constant encouragement, continuous motivation and suggestions were of immense help to maintain a high level confidence through out conduct of the study. His kind and sympathetic attitude and tireless fact-finding zeal were a perennial source of inspiration to me. Without his guidance and encouragement at every step, it would have been impossible to complete this thesis.

I would like to express my special thanks to Prof. G.Satyanarayana, Dean, Social Sciences, Prof.M.Jaya Raj, Dean, Public Affairs, S.K. University Prof. K. Dasaratharamaiah, Chairman Board of Studies, and Prof. P. Ramappa, Head, Department of Economics, S.K. University, Anantapur.

I would like to express my sincere thanks to the faculty of Economics & Applied Economics, Sri Krishnadevaraya University, Anantapur for their cooperation during my research work.

I would like to express my sincere thanks to the Directorate of Rural Development, Hyderabad, NIRD, Hyderabad and Centre for Economic and Social Studies, Hyderabad, Office of the Bureau of Economics and Statistics, Hyderabad who have provided required information and data on various aspects of my research work.

It is my duty to express my sincere thanks to the officials and non-officials of sample gram panchayats for their help during the collection of secondary data for my Ph.D work.

I am also thankful to the authorities of S.K.University Library for providing necessary literature and other data for my research work. I am grateful to the ICSSR, New Delhi for their financial support.

I would like to express my sincere thanks to my beloved parents Sri Sake Nallappa, Smt. Eramma and my brother Sake Raju, for their encouragement and support in completion of my Ph.D., work
