Acknowledgement

There are a number of people I want to thank and acknowledge for their contribution in bringing this thesis to fruition.

I am extremely grateful to my Research Guide, Dr H. Rajasheker, Reader, Department of Post-graduate Studies and Research in Commerce, Mysore University, for his gracious help and encouragement throughout my research work. His generosity in guiding, mentoring, giving constructive suggestions, and sharing ideas helped me to prepare this thesis in the present form. It is an opportunity of a lifetime to work with him.

I sincerely thank the authorities of Kuvempu University for having given me an opportunity to pursue my doctoral study. I am especially indebted to Professor & Chairman, Department of Post-graduate Studies and Research in Commerce, Kuvempu University who believed that teachers should continue to be active scholars, and, as a result, my efforts and time to complete this thesis were strongly supported. I also wish to thank the other faculty members of Department of Post-graduate Studies and Research in Commerce for their encouragement and moral support.

I wish to express my gratitude to Fr Vincent Pinto Principal, St Aloysius Evening College Mangalore and to all other members of the faculty of the college for their moral support.

My heartfelt thanks are due to all my colleagues in the college for extending their cooperation and encouragement especially by taking on various assignments of the Institute thus helping me to concentrate on my thesis work.
My sincere thanks go to all the respondents and executives and staff members of various departments for their cooperation in the collection of data and also for their valuable suggestions.

Over the period of five years, I have had the benefit of counsel of many individuals who have provided special help. At the risk of omission, those recalled most clearly are Prof. Kiran Hande, Dr. Suresh Poojary, Prof. Charles Furtado, Dr Shridhar Shetty, Mr. Jayavantha Nayak, and Mr. Ravi Shetty.

Above all this, thesis is the result of a loving and caring environment designed by my parents, wife Ms Judith Lobo, daughter Disha and my son Dilish, who gave up many days of family-time to enable me to continue on research and complete this study.
