

A C K N O W L E D G E M E N T

It is a great privilege to express my deep sense of gratitude and indebtedness to my guide Dr. Raghuvir S. Mehta, Professor and Head (Retired), Department of Economics, Bhavnagar University, Bhavnagar. I could finish this work only due to his encouragement and invaluable guidance during the course of investigation and in preparing this manuscript.

I am highly indebted to the Government of Gujarat and Director of Agriculture, Gujarat State, Ahmedabad for deputing me for the Post-Graduate study leading to Ph.D. degree at Bhavnagar University, Bhavnagar.

I further express my sincere appreciation and gratitude to Dr. I. M. Trivedi, Professor and Head, Department of Economics, Bhavnagar University, Dr. B.K. Oza, Reader in Commerce Department, Bhavnagar University, Dr. Nilaben Oza, Dr. M. L. Zala, Department of Economics, Bhavnagar University, with whom I had the opportunity of discussing the subject matter of this study from time to time. They gave encouragement and valuable suggestions to me in many ways and at different stages of the work.

I am grateful to Dr. N. T. Patel, I. I. M., Ahmedabad, Shri R. M. Patel, Dy. Director, Gujarat Computer Centre, Gandhinagar and Shri C. P. Thakarar for their valuable guidance and suggestions for statistical analysis of the data.

With a sense of gratitude, I wish to acknowledge the inspirations and encouragement that I received from Shri R. J. Patel, Registrar, Gujarat Agricultural University, Sardarkrushinagar.

I also record my sincere thanks to Shri R. M. Dobariya, Department of Agriculture, Rajkot, for his help and co-operation during the course of investigation.

I also thank my friends Dr. M. K. Pandey,
Professor, Institute of Co-operative Management,
Ahmedabad, Dr. C. H. Babaria, Department of Agriculture,
Ahmedabad, Shri V. J. Paida, Dry Farming Research Station, Targhdia for their ceaseless help in carrying out the research work.

Finally, I express my deepest appreciation and gratitude to my family members for their encouragement patience and endurance throughout my study.
