ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

It gives me a great pleasure to place on record my gratitude to all those who have helped me in successfully completing this work.

It is my pleasant duty to place on record my deep sense of gratitude to my esteemed research supervisor Dr. G.T. Govindappa, Professor, Chairman and Dean, Department of Studies in Commerce, Davangere University, Shivagangotri, Davanagere for his ever enlightening and inspiring guidance with patience and prudence throughout the period of my research work. His simplicity, academic excellence, broader outlook have always been a source of inspiration and encouragement for me. Without his active cooperation, interest, guidance and help, it would not have been possible for me to complete this work. I am enormously grateful to my esteemed research supervisor.

I owe a great debt of gratitude to my present Principal Prof. Nagaraj GFGC, Bukkapatna, Sira taluk, Tumkur district and Prof. R. Victor, Principal and staff of Dr. NSAM FGC, Bangalore for their advice and inspiring guidance. I express my deep gratitude to other teachers at different levels of my education more specifically at primary level Sri Nagarajappa, at M.Com level Prof. B.C. Sanjeevaiah, and at MBA level Prof. Jagadeesh KSOU Mysore, Whose sincerity and dedication to duty laid a firm foundation to my academic career.

My heart full thanks go to the Chief Librarians of Davanagere University, Davanagere, Institute For Social and Economic Change, Regional Institute for Cooperative Management, Padmanabhanagar, Bangalore. I also thank the officials of various departments more especially Karnataka Handloom Development Corporation, Indiranagar, Central Silk Board, Ministry of Textiles, Government of India, Handloom and Textiles, Bangalore Rural Zilla Panchayat, Karnataka. Handloom Technology Institute, Betageri, Gadag; and Statistical Department of Bangalore Rural District, Bangalore, who extended their cooperation during visits to those institutes. I am grateful to them and their staff.

I am thankful to the respondents of different villages and office bearers of selected Pure Silk Primary Cooperative Societies, Bangalore Rural District who warmly greeted me and patiently replied to my questions even though they were busy.

I wish to record my gratitude to my beloved parents, brother, sisters and friends Sri Nagendrakumar, Shankar and Dr. K. Mallikarjunappa, Government First Grade College, Davanagere for their encouragement and support. I will be failing in my duty if I do not express my gratitude to my wife Smt. Vinutha.K, not only carried on the domestic responsibilities all alone during the preparation of this work, but also helped me in typing, tabulation and proof reading. My sincere thanks go to her.

Finally, I thank Ms. Khalida Anjum, Lecturer in English, Government First Grade College, Nelamangala, for sparing her valuable time to read this research work and making language correction.
