CONTENTS

CHAPTER

I

AIM AND METHODOLOGY
The present study - objectives of the study - Methodology - Data Analysis and Presentation - Significance of the study - Survey of Literature.

Page No.

1 - 10

II

ELECTRICITY LAWS AND SERVICES

11 - 70

III

CONSUMER OPINION ON QUALITY OF ELECTRICITY SERVICES: RESPONSE ANALYSIS
Introduction - Age of the respondents - Occupation of the Electricity Consumers Time taken to pay first electricity bill after getting connection - Awareness about the Karnataka Electricity Board Act (KEB) - Knowledge of redressal of consumer problems by Consumer Forums under C.P. Act - Satisfaction as expressed by the respondents with the Electricity supply - Factors most dissatisfying the electricity Consumers - Frequent occurrence of high or low voltage as expressed by the respondents - Problem-wise Analysis as experienced by the respondents - Satisfaction about consumer forums decision - Suggestions from respondents.

71 - 89
FINDINGS AND SUGGESTIONS

Electricity - A major input for Industrial Development - Rural Electricity Consumers facing problems - Negligence of Electricity Authorities - Grievances are varied in nature - High bills - Non-supply of bills and hasty disconnections Insufficient supply of electricity - Accumulated bills proved burdensome - High voltage and low voltage problems - Defective meters - Defective and Dangerous transformers - Loose connections in the main wire - Consumers are apathetic - Ignorance of legislation - Authorities not bothered about Complaints - Complaint to the Consumer redressal forums bestway - High degree of satisfaction about forum's decision - Conclusion.

ANNEXURE - II (Questionnaire)

Consumer satisfaction in Electricity Services - A Case study of Pavagada Taluk, in Tumkur District.

BIBLIOGRAPHY