ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I am grateful to my research supervisor Dr. V. Reddappa Reddy, Reader & Head, Department of Rural Development and Social Work for readily agreeing to supervise my research work and for his perusal of the earlier drafts and several valuable suggestions. The present work would not have been possible without his help and encouragement throughout the process of this study.

I also express my sincere thanks to Prof. P. Muralidharudu, Chairman, Boards of Studies, Department of Rural Development and Social Work for his help in providing necessary material on the subjects of stress, coping and social work.

I further express my thanks to Dr. G. Sreedhar, Dr. K. Bhaskar, Dr. C. Sudhakar, Dr. K. Govindappa, Dr. R. Sugunakumari and Dr. D. Chenna Reddy, all faculty of the department of Rural Development, for their help in the conduct of study.

I thank Prof. I.A. Shareef, Head of the Department of Social Work, National Institute of Mental Health and Neuro Sciences, Bangalore who helped me with fruitful discussions on my research work. Prof. Ranganatham and Dr. Zareena Anantharaman, faculty of the same institute have also been very helpful to me in literature collection. I thank both of them for their timely help.

I express my thanks to Prof. P. Kamaiah and his staff of Sri Krishnadevaraya University Library for providing me sufficient material for my research work.

I am also thankful to Library and Information Centre authorities of National Institute of Mental Health and Neuro Sciences, Bangalore for their help in providing the material from their library.

My deep sense of gratitude to all the respondents who have cooperated with me at every stage in schedule canvassing and observation. The results would not have been possible but for their help and risk they have taken in speaking to me on alcoholism, though there is prohibition.

The village elders and teachers have been very helpful to me in my field work. I cannot name them for want of secrecy, but still my heart goes out to thank all of them with reverence.

I also thank Sri. P. Lokanna who typed this dissertation at a short notice and in skilful manner.
