Acknowledgement

I express my deep sense of gratitude to my beloved teacher and supervisor Prof. K. Govindappa, Present Sri Krishnadevaraya University Registrar, Professor and Chairman, Board of Studies, Department of Rural Development and Social Work, Sri Krishnadevaraya University, Anantapur for his excellent supervision and constant encouragement throughout the work. Without whose inspiration and encouragement, this venture would not have been possible.

I am indebted to Prof. M. Muninarayanappa, Head, Department of Rural Development and Social Work, Prof. V. Reddappa Reddy, Prof. G. Sreedhar, Prof. K. Bhaskar, Prof. C. Sudhakar, Prof. R. Suguna Kumari, and Dr. Firoz Babu of Department of Rural Development and Social Work, S.K. University, Anantapur, for their constant encouragement.

I am profoundly grateful for the scholarly discourses to my friend Dr. I. Radha Kumari whose valuable guidance and unstinted help in bringing this thesis successful completion.

My heartfelt thanks to Dr. K. P. Neeraja, Senior colleague, for her inspiration and constant encouragement during the period of this work. Without her help this work would not have been completed successfully.

I express my sincere thanks to Prof. Md. Aktar Dept. of Statistics for valuable guidance in using the statistical tools in analyzing this thesis. I am grateful to Mr. G. Krishna Murthy M.A., Retd Lecture for editing the thesis. I thank Mr. S. Md. Nasir, for taking pains in neatly typing the Thesis.

This research work is the result of the data that was given to me in the form of the responses by the mothers of the Panyam, Orvakal, Peddakadubur Mandal and the records given for consultation by the health assistants, Medical Officer at Primary Health Centre, of three mandal and the staff at District Medical and Health Office, Kurnool. I thank them all profusely for their cooperation and help.

My special thanks should go to my brother Dr. P. Kesuvulu, Teaching Assistant, Dept of Library Sciences, S.K. University for his encouragement and kindness in completing thesis.

My husband N. Raghu needs special mention, for his constant guidance to finish my research with his encouraging words loving care at home.

I express my propound sense of gratitude to all my family members especially to my children Chi. N. Bithaiah Sharon, and Chi. N. Dinesh. They have always supported me in every step that I have chosen in my life.

I thank the authorities of Sri Krishnadevaraya University, Anantapur and non-teaching staff of the Department of Rural Development and Social Work for their help in the department and University in completion of this work.

S. NAGASESHAMMA....