It is with great pleasure and privilege I acknowledge all those who have helped me in completing this research work.

I feel great pleasure in expressing my sincere thanks and heartfelt gratitude to my beloved research guide Dr. R.G. Desai, Professor and Chairman, Department of Economics, Bangalore University, Bangalore who has been a friend, philosopher and guide literally and advised me all through.

My sincere gratitude goes to Dr. A.S. Rayamane Reader in the Department of Geography, Bangalore University, who has inspired me to take up this research work.

My colleague Sri. Gurucharan, IAS, Commissioner for Industries and Commerce, Govt. of Karnataka has been kind enough to provide data, information as well as his valuable comments and suggestions and express my thanks to him.

I remember with gratitude Sri. N.S. Narayan Rao and his predecessors, Directorate of Employment and Training. Sri Prabhakar, Public Relation Officer, Sri Shivaram Holla, Joint Director (Training) and other officers in the Directorate of Employment and Training for supplying adequate data and information.

My sincere thanks are due to Director of Vocational Education Smt (Dr) Renuka Vishwanathan IAS, Secretary of Planning Department and also Secretary of Labour Department for their help in the supply of data and information to my work.
I am grateful to the Chief Secretary, Govt. of Karnataka for giving me permission to pursue my studies as a part time scholar.

Dr. Kalkundrikar and Sri DNS Kumar, Institute of Management Education and Research, Belgaum have rendered their help in arranging to collect primary data for this study. My special thanks are due to them.

My heartfelt thanks to Sri Channakeshava Murthy my former P.A. and now P.A. to Secretary, Revenue Department and Smt Sarasa for their assistance in this research work.

Ms. Vidyavathi has shared the major burden of putting things together and rendered help in completing this task and also neatly typed the thesis. I express my sincere thanks for her perseverance.

I remember my wife Smt. Meera and Children for their continuous support and encouragement in this endeavour.

I thank all those who are directly and remotely connected with this study including respondents. Though for want of space I am not able to mention the names of innumerable well wishers I invoke my special gratitude for their good wishes.
