Acknowledgments

First and foremost, I would like to express my gratitude to Dr. Sharmila Rege as my Ph.D thesis supervisor and a mentor, for all her guidance and all kinds of support, the long meetings, discussions that were always useful, interesting and never long enough during the research. I must appreciate Sharmila’s effort in my career taking off despite my unstable educational journey from a factory worker to an external B.A student in Pune University. Sharmila’s attempts have empowered me during the Postgraduation course in Sociology Department and then almost after unbelievable success in clearing NET Exam. Though I was a Marathi medium student hitherto, Sociology Department has encouraged my broken English during M.A examinations and making presentations in general; but Sharmila’s practical way of correcting my M.Phil course work writings as well as editing Ph.D drafts with great empathy and ethics stimulated my ability to grow academically. When I had reached third semester of Post-Graduation Course in Sociology Department, Sharmila joined us as H.O.D of Department of Sociology, I would not say that I was not familiar with Sharmila’s pedagogy before her arrival as the H.O.D, as I had earlier taken a challenging course “Gender, Development and Globalization” in Women Studies Centers, and I became highly motivated by Sharmila’s pedagogical style and untiring classroom interactions with my batch. Till today, I can never forget Sharmila’s comprehensive views on integrating gender within the phases of globalization, especially while streamlining my own comparative research.

Sharmila did an enthusiastic and successful experiment in my academic career by converting my M.Phil research into Ph.D as well as encouraging me to grab an opportunity to pursue “Sandwich Ph.D” in Spain under Erasmus Mundus Programme. During my Spain visit, Sharmila suggested me to undertake a Ph.D Project on European Roma Gypsies and their persistent exclusions within European regime so that we could ultimately be able to link and set the parameters for socially excluded and marginalized groups in different contexts; both in terms of European racial, ethnic intolerances and of Indian traditional caste based labour occupancies. This comparative work enriched my final Ph.D submission. Sharmila has not only supervised my research well, but has also been pouring tremendous efforts to nurture my research interest and sharpen my research ethics in dealing with academic activities. Very often Sharmila has been gifting me books, famous biographies of prominent authors in order to sharpen my research interest and rigour.

I remember those initial days during M.Phil when Sharmila sent me to access reputed libraries like TISS, JNU and other important Social Sciences institution and subsequently for participating in SPSS quantitative methodology workshop in IIAS at Shimla and Dalit critical writing workshop in EFLU Hyderabad. These academic programs became a turning point as I could interact with intellectuals of national and global repute. Since long-time I have usually been communicating with Sharmila through emails, I am always impressed by the message in e-mail content; Educate! Organize!! Agitate!!! (Dr. Babasaheb Ambedkar’s popular message) which keeps me going in the quest to be a good and socially committed student.

I strongly appreciate Dr. Swati Shirwadkar, H.O.D for her personal attention, endless help and prompt official procedures in my whole Ph.D thesis completion. Swati mam has been doing a great job since my M.A Course in Sociology. I can never forget her kindness. Special thanks to Dr. Shruti Tambe who has always expressed interest in my research and given me valuable suggestions.

Special thanks to Dr. Anagha Tambe, Dr. Swati Dehadray, Ashtekar madam and Anil Saini Sir, who intrigued me in many ways and also relived my tension by giving valuable suggestions during my Ph.D Programme. For proofreading efforts, I am grateful to Ravi Jadhav, Sangharatna Sonawane, Vikas Mulik, Sneha Gole, Sugita mam’, and Dhananjay Paigude (DJ). To all the people who took the time to make presentable this work: thank you!

I owe a special thanks and appreciation to my beloved sister Sarika, brother-in-law Y.G. Bhosale, Chachya Bhosale, Anna Bhosale and Bhosale and Gaikwad family members as a source of inspiration. They have always motivated me and given me courage during those initial hard days in Pune. I am the person I am today because of them - Thank you! I would like to heartly appreciate late G.D.Bhosale (alias Daddy) who awakened me for continuing higher education in unprecendented ways. I deeply commemorate Daddy for his consistent motivation in my life. I feel his mortal appearance surround me even today. Without my parents’s blessings, I would not able to end up higher education. I would have been happy, if they were alive to see my course of progress. Here, I really express my sorrow that they could not while also thanking my brother Sanjay, Pradeep and Nivruti uncle for their kind inspiration.

I would like to express my grateful thank to Pune Mahanagar Palika Kamgar Union, Pune University Safai Karmachari Sangh and PMC conservancy staff and workers. I am grateful to Comrade Mukta Manohar, Comrade Prakash Jadhav and other Safai-sevak who have contributed very much. I would like to say special thank to Comrade Prakash Jadhav who helped me by all means especially in visits various field sites under the PMC Ward Areas, meeting Safai-kamgar, PMC senior and junior ranked officials. After being convinced of my interest with Safai work and their problems, Jadhav further involved me into activities of Sharmik Kamgar Sanghatana and anticipated projects for welfare of the workers. Importantly, various PMC Union’s record documents were also shared by him for my references. It gave a big turn to my research. Thanks once again.

As far as study conducted in Bilbao is concerned, I would like to express my grateful recognition to all the Roma Gypsy/Gitano respondents and commendable Roma associations and organizations; mainly Kale-Dor-Kayiko Association, Iniciativa Gitana, Euskera Gypsy Women Organisation, Association of Gitanos-Barakaldo, NEVIPEN ROMANI, Fundación EDE, Fundación Secretariado Gitano for their help and guidance while carrying out my intensive fieldwork. Also thanks to Rishu Shandaliya, who spent a great deal of his worthwhile time with me during the fieldwork in Spain by interpreting and translating the questionnaires as well as respondent’s conversations into Spanish language. Many thanks Rishu!!

My heartful thank to Prof. Suhas Palshikar for his guidance as expert on my Pre-Ph.D panel and also Prof. Sujata Patel, Prof. S.M.Dahiwale and Dr. Sanjay Kolekar for their supports and personal attention. I would also like to warmly thank to Dr. Anurekha Chari, Dr. Sunita Pandhe, Dr. Vishal Jadhav, Dr. Sampat Kale, Dr. Prashant Bansode, Vaishali Joshi, and Dr. Vaishali Diwakar, for their moral support and guidance - Thank you! To Prof. Vidhut Bhagwat, Prof. Vilas Wagh, and Dr. Vijay Khare; thanks for the welcome distractions and for allowing me to bounce ideas off you. I would also like to thank Dr. Shailesh Darokar, Dr. Mangesh Kulkarni, Dr. Harsh Jagzap, Dr. Durgambuni Patel and Prof. Dipankar Gupta for their time, effort and many ideas.
I would like to thank Erasmus Mundus Fellowship Project of European Commission, for providing me a grant for an exchange student in University of Deusto, Spain in September 2009- June 2010 that encouraged me to undertake Ph.D project which could be corresponding to home university Ph.D research work. As a part of Project, I undertook project study on quality of life of Roma Gypsies (Gitanos Vascos)*1 in Spain and Bilbao city in Particular. I would like to express my gratitude to Prof. Edurne Bartolome as my "Erasmus Ph.D Project" tutor from Deusto University for her competent advice and help that compelled me it has a use as an additional chapter to this thesis. In addition, I appreciate co-operation extended by University of Deusto and Roma activists from Bilbao, by Prof. Maite, Prof. Rosa Santabenitz, Prof. Julia Gonzalez, Olga Benitez, Oscar Vizarraga, Javier Parez, Valentin, Baby Pilar Garcia, Gipson Varghese, Jintha, Sherkhan, Chetan, Satya, vijita, Delhi Rose, Shashwati and Rishu; thanks guys!!

I would also like to thank the non-teaching staff at the Department of Sociology, Sanjeevani madam, Yematekar Sir, Chandare Kaka, Nitin, Neelima madam and Suhas Kulkarni sir for helping me to complete all administrative procedures. I appreciate a continuous support of our librarian late Pawar sir whose sudden demise shocked me. I would not hesitate to say thanks to my cheerful batchmates and colleagues; Prashant Apte, Anand Gadiwad, Vinayak Lashkar, Vijay Gaikwad, Rahul Dalvi, Ganesh Tekale, Amit Wadekar, Nagnath Shelke, Sanjay Kamble, Anil Jaybhaye, Mayuri Samant, Prashant Sutkar, Vishwajeet Singh, Janrao Haware, Kalyankar Sir, Deepak Chaudhary, Swarup Waghmare, Deepa Tak, Mayuri Samant, Sutapa, Deepti Oke, Dhammasangini, Rahul Paithankar, Yuvaraj Suryavanshi, Raoasheb Bavaskar, Vijay Mane, Rahul Bengale, Chandrakant (Driver), Satish (Jacky), and Prashant Bhosale. Last but not least, I greatly appreciate the co-operation of non-teaching staff in Women Studies Centre, Pune University who were preparing endless set of recommendation letters for me as I applaud for jobs during the doctoral work.
