Acknowledgement

This thesis is the end of my journey in obtaining my Ph.D. and truly my dream come true. I would like to thank all those people who made this journey possible and an unforgettable experience for me. It is a pleasant task to express my thanks to all those who contributed in many ways to the success of this study. This thesis has been kept on track and been seen through to completion with the support and encouragement of numerous people including my well wishers, my friends, colleagues and various institutions. I would like to thank all of them. The list will be longer than the bibliography at the end of the thesis! I must mention at least a representative few them. The contributions of the others not mentioned here are equally valuable.

The first person I would like to thank is Dr. (Mrs.) Surbhi Jain, my research guide, for her active, clear and focused guidance and her strong faith in my ability. She helped me limit the scope of my study and gave valuable suggestions on how to present the data. This work would not have been possible without her guidance, support and encouragement. Dr. (Capt.) C. M. Chitale, Head, PUMBA for giving me this opportunity to pursue my dream. His strong personal and administrative support has always been extremely valuable. Sanjay Sane and Mrs. Suvarna Sane, for their keen interest in all the statistical analyses of my data to explore beyond my initial intentions. Their patience to check and recheck all the statistical calculations answer all my silliest questions to my satisfaction is amazing. Dadasaheb Choudhari, for always being there to help me in data analysis. I must also congratulate him for winning a Gold Medal in MA Statistics. Dr. Madhav Pendse and Mrs. Lakshmi Raju, my teachers, mentors and guiding stars for their strong support and a much stronger belief in me. They kept a track of my progress and pumped in energy and encouragement I needed to keep going. Shri. Shekhar Gaikwad, IAS for sharing his insights on the functioning, services and service quality of the Revenue Department.
Dr. Sanjay Chahande, IAS, Director General, YASHADA and Shri. Naresh Zurmure, IFS, Deputy Director General, YASHADA for their continuous support and encouragement. Dr. Manoj Kulkarni, Sr. Librarian YASHADA, who introduced me to the concept of SERVQUAL and inspired me to apply it further to Administration and supported me unconditionally. He always made the books from the YASHADA library available to me at a very short notice. Dr. Archana Thombre, for taking care of my health. Mrs. Smita Kulkarni for always being there with me. Dr. Ram Pole and Shri. Amol Bamishte deserve special thanks for their unconditional support and encouragement throughout this journey. I must also thank my good friend Shri. Achlaeshwar Singh, Assistant Director, Official Languages, BARC, for translating the questionnaires into grammatically correct Hindi; Shri. Kartikeya Mishra for getting the questionnaires typed in Hindi. I must also thank Kartik and his wife Dr. Neekee Mishra who shared their residence with me during my stay in Jaipur and extended brotherly love towards me. They helped me plan my itinerary, made travel arrangements for me and accepted me as a member of their family.

Special thanks to all the Addl. Collectors, Dy. Collectors, Tahsildars, Naib-Tahsildars and the staff of the Tahsil offices from Maharashtra and Rajasthan, for actively and sincerely supporting me by responding to my questionnaires and taking part in open discussions. All the anonymous people who supported my efforts by filling up the questionnaire and taking part in the open discussions deserve a special vote of thanks. The study was impossible without their cooperation.

I am extremely indebted to Shri. Vidyasagar Hirmukhe, my husband who stood by me along this long journey with all its ups and downs. This feat was impossible to achieve without his strong support. Our children Malhar, Anil and Akshay too deserve special thanks. All of them stayed with me in the process, and handled me and sometimes my anxieties and also my home in my absence. Anil deserves a special mention for being my mentor more than my son. He accompanied me to all the destinations across Maharashtra for data collection, assisted in the data collection and acted as my caretaker more than my son. Anil and Malhar helped me in sorting out the filled questionnaires, checking and rechecking the data and managing the hard data. I must also thank my brother Manohar for all his love and care and his belief in my ability.

I am indebted to A. Parasuraman, Leonard L Berry, and Valarie A. Zeithaml for their extensive service quality research and design of the SERVQUAL instrument which inspired me to take up this research. I must also thank the innumerable research scholars whose research papers contributed a great deal to my knowledge and understanding of the concept of service quality in general and the SERVQUAL in particular. My parents, both of whom I am sure are guiding me from their heavenly abode. I must thank them for their love of learning and instilling the same in their children. And above all, the Almighty for creating me and giving me the strength and courage to fulfill my dreams against all the odds.
