Dedicated
to
My Parents
I wish to express my deepest gratitude to my supervisors Dr. Lokendra Singh, DRDO Hqrs, New Delhi and Prof. M. C. Kalita, Department of Biotechnology, Gauhati University, Guwahati for their kind support and guidance. I am thankful to Head, teaching faculty and supporting staff of Department of Biotechnology, Gauhati University, Guwahati for regular guidance, suggestions and support during the study. I also like to thank Dr. Vijay Veer, Director, Defence Research Laboratory (DRL), Tezpur, Assam for providing me the guidance and resources used in my PhD work. I would like to thank Defence Research and Development Organisation (DRDO) for providing me the fellowship.

I am very much thankful to Dr. M. K. Meghvansi, Scientist ‘D’, DRL for introducing me to the world of mycorrhiza, organic amendments, Cercospora and plant defense. Your support and dedication have been endless. Your motivation and encouragement to dream big and push the limits will always be remembered to me. I thank you for accepting myriads of my queries related not only to my PhD but from other social ones as well. Finally, I am grateful to have a group officer and a friend as you who always keep my moral up and positive. I want to give heart full thanks to all the members of DRL including scientists and staff particularly Mr. Rajeev Gupta, TO ‘A’, DRL, who walked with me and always remained by my side throughout my PhD work which is an unforgettable and inevitable remembrance.

I would also like to thank my friends’ viz. Dinesh Kumar, Aatma Prakash, Dharmendra Kumar, Reena Yadav, Afzal Majumdar, Jyotsana Gogoi, Shubham Banerjee, Aadesh Upadhyay, Kamlesh Yadav, Amit Agnihotri, Zafar Ahmad, Rakesh Patidar and Rameshwar Tiwari. They listened and discussed about my wild scientific ideas in this incredible journey of PhD.

I also extend thanks to my lab casual workers viz. Sunil and Jeetu. Their obedience and help will be remembered to me always.

My family members including my mother, father, sister and two big brothers were with me every time throughout my life to guide and teach me the way to be a good person before a Doctorate. Finally, I must admit that without the help of almighty Allah, everything including my PhD would have been impossible.
