ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

“I am wondering why you haven’t yet completed your Ph.D. You must vigorously pursue it.” – were the words of Prof. A. Prasanna Kumar who has been a great inspiration and encouragement to me from the beginning of my research work. I just bow to him not to thank him but to receive his blessings.

Sadhguru Jaggi Vasudev always says that without inspiration, an individual cannot break his limitations. But, I understood the essence of those words only due to Prof. V.C. Sudheer, who readily responded, when I had requested him to be my supervisor saying, “You are one of the best students that I have ever come across. I will give you what all the guidance, you require. If not you, who can do research?” were the words of affection of my guide who has been an inexhaustible reservoir of motivation. It is obvious that without his cooperation, my ideas would not have taken this form. I have continuously vexed him to the best of my ability through a thousand doubts and he never has shown slightest trace of impatience. I bow to him in all reverence.

It was Prof. T. Padma Dutta who initiated me into the path of research and I am ever thankful to her for her benign blessings.

My heartfelt thankfulness to the esteemed faculty of our English department- Prof. T. Narayana, Head of the dept., Prof. S. Prasanna Sree, Prof. B. Parvathi, Prof. Manjula Davidson, Prof. C.L.L Jaya Prada, Dr. Solomon Benny and Dr. Peddi Raju. I also thank all those faculty members who taught me when I was a P.G. student in the dept. I must remember (late) Prof. L.S.R.K. and Prof. K. Nirupa Rani who taught me ‘Commonwealth Literature’.

I am lucky to have many relatives and well-wishers who deeply desired to see me as a Doctorate. Among them are my maternal uncle Sri Vinnakoata Bhaskara Rao and my aunt Vijaya and their youngest son Srikanth who have been continuously motivating me for the quicker completion of my Ph.D. It was in the house of my uncle Sri. Palamarthi Venkatewsara Rao, my father’s childhood friend, I happened to listen to Sadhguru Jaggi Vasudev on a T.V.
channel. I never thought that incident would turn like this. I owe him a lot. I am thankful to Sri Pendem Ravindra Rao, my father’s schoolmate who has always been a reminder to me about my speedy completion of Ph.D. work. I am also thankful to my beloved aunt A. Radha for her good wishes throughout.

The first significant help for my Ph.D. work came from Mr. Kati Poul and his friend Mr. Sudhakar of EFLU to whom I am always thankful. Mr. Sivannarayana, my P.G. classmate and a PGT, a disciple of Sadhguru has rendered all possible help in regard to the books and DVDs of Sadhguru. I am indebted to him. I am profusely thankful to my classmate since graduation, Smt. A.S. Phani Kumari who has helped me in proof-reading and offering me some valuable suggestions. I am greatly grateful to Mr. Vasudha Leela Krishna, my junior in the university and a follower of Master E.K. and Mr. Alajangi Muralidhar, J.L. for their priceless timely help.

I take this opportunity to express my gratefulness to my beloved friend Dr. Vanapalli Venkata Rao whose help at a crucial hour solaced me beyond words.

My friends Mr. Konda Ramanadham, Mr. V. Vaneendra Sastry, Mr. Naresh Pindari and Mr. Ponaganti Mohan Rao have been continuously showering their good wishes for which I am ever thankful to them.

I am particularly thankful to my friend Gandham Prasad and sister-in-law Battu Sakunthala whose typing and software skills have saved my time to a great extent. I am also thankful to Smt. Manga & Veni.

I am more than sure that words fail me if at all I attempt to express my gratitude to my beloved friends- Mr. Sreeram Venkat Rama Rao and Choppa Sri Ranganayakulu who have helped me in all regards- on the campus and in the city. I was a guest (of highest honour) for Smt. G. Sarada and Dr. Isukapatla Padma Latha for several days before submitting my thesis. I am immensely thankful to them who have served me with utmost care and concern.
I am indebted to Sri Kavuri Ram Prasad, a direct student of Master E.K. for his valuable ‘material’ help. I express my deep sense of thankfulness to Sri Kambampati Siva Sankar, Sri N.S.S. Ram, Dr. Gopala Krishna, Ch. Satyadev and Sri. Ch.S.N. Raju for their spiritual guidance.

I do not know how to convey my feelings of gratitude to my parents- Sri R. Koteswara Rao and Smt. Bharathi Lakshmi whose dream has been to see me as a doctorate. The only thing I can do to them is to touch their feet in reverence.

From the first day of the registration of Ph.D. to the last day of submission, the support of my wife Smt. Vedavathi in all aspects, has been incalculable. Any endeavour to thank her will be a futile attempt, but, still, I thank her from the bottom of my heart.

When Chi. Ram Naresh was nine months old, I taught him alphabet on a slate and when he turned nine, he taught me alphabet on a monitor. In his supervision, all the files, related to my Ph.D. work have been managed. Whenever I was in confusion being lost in the files, folders and drives, it was he who guided me with his tender sharpness. Since, I cannot thank my son, I pray to the two masters- Master E.K. and Sadhguru Jaggi Vasudev- by whom he has been inspired in the process of my Ph.D. work, to shower their blessings on him.

I am indebted to A.U. and EFLU libraries. I just do not know whether I will ever be able to repay at least a minute percentage of what I have received from the spiritual organizations- The World Teacher Trust, Ramakrishna Mission, and The Isha foundation- whose prolific spiritual literature has helped me in writing this thesis.

It was in the light of a radiant light house, Master Kambhampati Parvathi Kumar, I could comprehend the works of Master E.K. My humble pranams to him.
