ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

Completing any endeavor is related as success but completing the thesis work is like a dream coming true which can never be accomplished without ‘HIS’ Choicest Blessings and the wishes & able guidance of revered Supervisors. At the outset, let me acknowledge my sincere & profound thanks for Dr. R.K. Sharma, Professor of Public Administration, Fellow & Ex-dean Art Faculty, Panjab University who helped me to identify this interesting topic and than making it possible for me to complete this task.

I am immensely indebted to Professor Charanjeev Singh, Department of Public Administration, Panjab University, an eminent scholar & a person with deep understanding of research methodology, guiding me in the conduct of this study.

I can imagine how hard things could be without the guidance of the supervisors. It is certainly a pleasure and fun to work with them. The study is, therefore a tribute to their scholarly traits. They have always been a torch-bearer for me in accomplishing this gigantic task. Under their esteemed inspiration and guidance, I could carry out this piece of research work with confidence. Through, able guidance, untiring assiduity, care and concern, they always inspired me carry on with this endeavour. I shall always remain indebted to them for whatever they have done for me.

I would like to express my special thanks to Professor B. S. Ghuman, Department of Public Administration & Dean of Arts Faculty whose valuable suggestions went a long way in completing my research work. I am also very grateful to Chairperson, Department of Public Administration and entire faculty members and staff of the Department of Public Administration, Panjab University, for their cooperation and guidance in the completion of this task.

I am indebted to all those stalwarts, who inspired me from time to time to complete this study. They have made a great impact on my life, by being my anchor and a pillar of strength during these trying times. It is my pleasure to place on record my gratitude to Professor G.S. Gosal, former Head Department of Geography, Professor Shital Parkash, former Chairperson, Department of Public Administration
& also the Managing Director, Senior Citizen council for Human Resource Development and Professor S.C Gakhar, former Chairperson Department of Education for their never-failing advice and encouragement. Whenever, I needed assistance, they were always available to render the same.

I am also grateful to the library staff of Panjab University, Chandigarh, for helping me to look for the related books and material. I am greatly indebted to all the officers and staff of the ICSSR New Delhi for supporting me in this research venture. I take this opportunity to express my sincere thanks to all the staff members of ICSSR, N. W. Regional Centre, - Mr. Madan Lal, Mr. Kamal Kumar Sally, Mr. Avtar Singh, Mr. Vinod Kumar, Mrs. Viran, Guest House and library Staff.

I do not have the words to express my heartfelt thanks to Professor Bhupinder Brar, Director, NWRC- ICSSR, and Dean University Instructions, Panjab University for providing me every possible help, motivation & guidance to carry on with my research work. Inspite of his busy schedule of work, he could spare some time for me to clear my doubts.

I Wish to express my sincere thanks to Dr. N. Bangkim Singh, Dr. Vishal Saini, Mr. B. Komow, Mr. Raghav Khanna, Mr. Suvitho, Mr. Gobind Singh, Research Scholars, close friends and well wishers, who not only inspired me but also supported me directly or indirectly in completing this research work.

My thanks are also due to the social scientists and research scholars of the region for providing me the vital inputs for this research work. Last but not the least, comes my family members; my respectful parents, brother, my dearest wife and loving daughter. Without their physical and moral supports and good wishes, the work would have never seen the light of day. Lastly, to Almighty God, for the divine intervention and giving me support for making all things possible.
