LIST OF TABLES

CHAPTER-I
INTRODUCTION

Table 1.1 : The number of drug addicts who voluntarily apply for treatment in Thailand.

CHAPTER-V
ANALYSIS OF DATA AND INTERPRETATION

Table 5.1.1 : Age and Sex wise distribution of the respondents.
Table 5.1.2 : Marital Status - wise distribution of the respondents.
Table 5.1.3 : The Education – wise levels of respondents
Table 5.1.4 : The educational level of parents/ guardian of the respondents.
Table 5.1.5 : The living and stay - wise distribution of the respondents.
Table 5.1.6 : Family member -wise distribution of the respondents.
Table 5.1.7 : The parents - wise alive distribution of the respondents.
Table 5.1.8 : Head of family – wise distribution of the respondents.
Table 5.1.9 : The occupation- wise distribution of the respondents.
Table 5.1.10 : Distribution of family income of the respondents.
Table 5.1.11 : The source of income per annum of people in the community.
Table 5.1.12 : The employment status - wise of respondent in the community.
Table 5.1.13 : The type of employment of respondents in the community.
Table 5.1.14 : Place job, preferences of the respondents.
Table 5.1.15 : Membership of political organisations of respondents in community
Table 5.1.16 : The voting behaviour of the respondents.
Table 5.1.17 : The satisfaction in the outcome of the election in community.
Table 5.1.18 : Political conflict condition in community of the respondents.
Table 5.1.19 : Religion - wise distribution of the respondents.
Table 5.2.1: Type of drugs taken by the respondents.
Table 5.2.2: Persons who have influenced withdrawal of drug-taking
Table 5.2.3: Responses if drugs are offered
Table 5.2.4: The opinion of the respondents about the youth taking drugs.
Table 5.2.5: The consequence of drug addiction
Table 5.2.6: The reasons for taking drugs.
Table 5.2.7: Ready targets of drug addiction.
Table 5.2.8: Drug addicts can be treated completely.
Table 5.2.9: The drug addiction can lead to AIDS, the opinion of the respondents.
Table 5.2.10: The factors affecting drug addiction.
Table 5.2.11: The reasons for taking drugs by addicts.
Table 5.2.12: The reasons for taking drugs as an escape from stresses and strains.
Table 5.2.13: Parental role in treatment of drug addiction.
Table 5.2.14: The return to drugs after de-addiction.
Table 5.2.15: The residence-wise distribution of the respondents.
Table 5.2.16: The kinship relationship in community of the respondents.
Table 5.2.17: The respondents having some problems with kinsmen.
Table 5.2.18: Persons who are blamed to increase number of drug user.
Table 5.2.19: Traffickers selling drugs in their locality.
Table 5.2.20: The reaction, if your best friend is taking drug.
Table 5.2.21: The procedure to make the drug addict get rid of their habits.
Table 5.2.22: The preventive measures to cures drug addiction.
Table 5.2.23: The opinion to prevention of drug addict problem.
Table 5.2.24: The social institute should be respond for their treatment of drug addicts.
Table 5.2.25: The relationship between drugs and crime.
Table 5.2.26: Legal aspects: Alcohol and drugs
Table 5.2.27: The drug are more dangerous than alcohol.
Table 5.2.28: The Parental occupation
Table 5.2.29: Familial relationship
Table 5.2.30: The communication gap between the youth and their parents lead to drug problem.
Table 5.2.31: The Pocket money of the respondents.
Table 5.2.32: Expenditure of addicts out of their pocket money.
Table 5.2.33: The parents together living status wise-distribution of respondents.
Table 5.2.34: Familial interaction with parents.
Table 5.2.35: Some aspects of familial problems
Table 5.2.36: Attitude of family members towards drug addicts
Table 5.2.37: The planning for the future of the respondents.
Table 5.3.1: Parental attitude questionnaire
Table 5.3.2: Parental attitude questionnaire responses of the respondents