ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

I am indebted to a number of professors and authors whose writings and ideas inspired me to take up this task.

It is difficult for me to find suitable words to express my deep sense of gratitude to Professor T.N. Kapoor, Dean, Faculty of Business Management and Commerce, Panjab University, Chandigarh and presently Executive Director, Management Development Institute, New Delhi. Dr Kapoor has not only been my guide but has been a constant source of inspiration throughout my career. His clear insights, incisive and perceptive criticism and affectionate attitude, have moulded my academic personality. Each chapter of this thesis bears his scholarly stamp.

I am also grateful to Professor Bidhi Chand, Department of Commerce and Business Management, Panjab University, Chandigarh who has been my co-supervisor with Dr T.N. Kapoor. I would like to express that I have been able to persist in my work due to his beneficent care, help and lively encouragement. His indefatigable fact-finding zeal encouraged me not to be satisfied with anything but the best.

It is my pleasant duty to place on record my sincere thanks to Professor S.P. Tripathi, Chairman, Department of Commerce and Business Management, Panjab University, Chandigarh and Professor B.N. Mehrotra, past Chairman, Department of Commerce and Business Management, Panjab University, Chandigarh, for their unstinted support at every level of my research work. I am also grateful to Dr S.P. Singh, Department of Commerce and Business Management, Panjab University, Chandigarh, who was readily accessible and ever willing to dispel my doubts regarding statistical analysis in my research work.

I am ever grateful to the executives of the various Export Houses and Trading Houses who despite their busy schedule spent time in discussing things with me and providing useful data for the study. But, for their co-operation this study would not have seen the light of the day. I should also put on record my grateful acknowledgement of reputed export promotion bodies at home and abroad, various officials of the Ministry of Commerce, and the librarians and assistants of the Department of Commerce and Business Management Library, Panjab University; Indian Institute of Foreign Trade Library; Federation of Indian Chambers of Commerce and Industry Library; and the Trade Development Authority Library. I must also thank Mr. B.S. Cheema, for typing the manuscript with meticulous care.

If many more persons remain unacknowledged, I only plead for extenuation.

Satish K. Kapoor
(SATISH K. KAPOOR)

CHANDIGARH

21 July 1984