Education in Islam is so important that the word “knowledge” and its derivations has been mentioned more than seven hundred times in Holy Quran and Prophet Mohammad (peace be upon him) also has said “Respect educated people because they are Prophet’s inheritors and whoever respects them, have respected Allah and Prophet”. Imam Ali (peace be upon him) also has said “whoever teaches me one alphabet has made me his slave”. Therefore it’s my duty to express my humble gratitude to the First Teacher of Man who is Allah for providing me the path to education and giving me the courage and the health to attempt this piece of research, to execute my dreams and to fall into the “Divine Souls who stood by me with warm support and guidance and helped me to learn. I can only name them here and express my sincere appreciation to them.

My heartfelt thanks go to my respected and loving parents who since my childhood, study and career had always encouraged me and supported me morally with their blessings.

I owe my loving thanks to my wife, my daughter and my Son. They have lost a lot due to my research abroad. Without their encouragement, understanding and companionship it would have been impossible for me to finish this work.

I would like to express my profound sense of gratitude to my guide Dr. Devinder Singh, Associate Professor, Department of Laws, Panjab University, Chandigarh, for providing me an excellent opportunity to work on this research project under his valuable guidance and support wherever I needed. Indeed, it has been great pleasure and privilege to carry out this challenging research under his supervision. My sincere thanks are due for his valuable suggestions, inspiring guidance and all sorts of cooperation, proficient observations and professional criticism.

I also express my sincere thanks to Prof. Nishta Jaswal, Professor and Chairman, Department of Laws, Panjab University, Chandigarh, and Prof. Paramjit S. Jaswal, Department of Laws, Panjab University, Chandigarh & Vice-Chancellor, Rajiv Gandhi National University of Law, Patiala and I extend my sincere thanks to Prof. Shashi K. Sharma, Department of Laws, Panjab University, Chandigarh, for their constant support and providing me necessary facilities to carry out the present study.

Many appreciation to Dr. Abdollah Jassbi, Professor and Chief Chancellor, Islamic Azad University of Iran, Dr. Mohammad Reza Bagherzadeh, Vice-Chancellor, Islamic Azad University, Qaemshahr Branch, Iran, for the official assisting during my study.

I will be failing in my duty if I don’t appreciate Mrs. Maryam Hassani Golyakh, Ph.D. Scholar, Department of Education, Panjab University, Chandigarh, for her kindness, generosity to help me.

My special and sincere thanks to Office and library staffs, Department of Law, Panjab University, Chandigarh and Dr. Akhilesh for their valuable help.
Last but not the least I offer my sincere thanks to Delhi University Library as well as Aligarh Muslim University Library staffs who helped me to find the valuable sources required for this study.

Seyed Javad Seyed Alizadeh Ganji

8-9-2004