With an ineffable sense of profound gratitude I place on record my indebtedness to my mentor and guide Dr. Baljeet S. Kapoor, Ex-Director Punjab Engineering College, Chandigarh and present Director General & Director of Quest Group of Colleges, Mohali for his expertise guidance, valuable criticism, incessant motivation and inspiration during the course of my study.

Words seem inadequate in expressing the respect and renovation, I feel for my guide Dr. Amarjeet Singh Minhas, Professor, School of Public Health, Post graduate Institute of Medical Education & Research, Chandigarh. His standard of excellence never permitted him to falter in his pursuit for perfection. It is a great privilege to have benefited from his excellent teaching skills and sagacious guidance. This constructive guidance helped me to persevere in my efforts and to refine all that was rough and crude. He has all along been considerate, helpful & cordial despite his hectic schedule and official commitments. The fine layout and presentation of this report reflects the professional aptitude he possesses. He paid close attention for working out the methodology, provided an insight with his collection of literature on the subject and constantly inspired me.

I am highly obliged to Dr. J.C. Mehta, President, Institute of Hospital Engineering and former Head of the Department of Hospital Engineering & Planning, PGIMER, Chandigarh for encouraging me to pursue my work in the field of hospital engineering with full zeal and enthusiasm. I am also highly thankful to Er. Arun Vohra, Hospital Engineer, PGIMER for his overwhelming cooperation and involvement in this work.

I am also indebted to Prof. S.K. Sharma and Prof. Shakti Kumar of Punjab Engineering College, Chandigarh for their meticulous teaching, invaluable help and guidance.

I would also like to thank my husband Dr. Inderpal Singh Sahni for his immense help and indefatigable cooperation throughout the period of work.

My heartfelt gratitude to my special friends Dubendra, Baljinder and Praveen for their unstinting love, affection and emotional support.

At least but not the least, I would like to record my due sense of gratitude and respect for my parents, brother and sisters for their endless efforts, blissful affection and realistic advice without which this work could not have seen the light of the day. They not only took care of my little Karman but also endured the trials and tribulations with the hope that one-day things would improve for the better.

Lastly, I thank God for being my inner strength.
