Acknowledgements

The importance of “guru” is already described in our “Vedas” and compared by “Brahma”-a creator. I would like to express my deep and sincere gratitude to my guide Dr. H. K. Sharma, Professor, Department of Food Engineering and Technology, SLIET for his able guidance, keen interest, ever willing help and constant encouragement all along the course of present study. His understanding, motivation and immense knowledge have provided a good basis for present thesis. He gave me freedom to execute the research project not only into the institute but also at the industrial level which helped me a lot to carry out the research with confidence and sharpen my research instincts. He has taught me the roll of persistent efforts for the successful realization of the goal. I cherish the value of hard work which I have learnt from him.

I am deeply indebted to my co-guide, Late Dr. B. C. Sarkar, Professor, Department of Food Engineering and Technology, SLIET for his competitive guidance, valuable suggestions and for his important support throughout this work which proved to be fruitful in shaping up my ideas and research. He rendered help at every phase of my study.

I express my thanks to Mr. Manoj Pandey and Mr. Devendra Singh for providing me the facilities and all kind of help in carrying out the experimental work. I owe much to the department of Food Engineering and Technology for all the facilities provided to me for carrying out the research work and successful completion of my work. I wish to express my warmest thanks to Mrs. Garima Sengar who helped me with my research work from time to time.

I owe my thanks to my mother, Smt Maya Mishra and father, Shree Dinesh Chandra Mishra. They both have put in a lot of sacrifices during my entire study period. It would have been impossible for me to finish the work without the support and encouragement of them. I feel pleasure, pride and privilege to express my heartiest gratitude to my brother, Mr Prakash Chandra Mishra and sister, Miss Medha Mishra and my better half, Mr Sudhendu Tripathi, for his constant inspiration, which kept me focused and motivated. I am indebted to all my family for their inseparable support and prayers.

Finally, I express my gratitude to Almighty for giving me strength and patience to complete this study successfully.
