ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

First and foremost, I humbly bow to offer my whole-hearted gratitude to The Lord Almighty for blessing me to complete this thesis.

This thesis is the result of the work carried out under the guidance and supervision of Dr.R.NATARAJAN, Head, Research centre in Economics, V.O.Chidambaram College, Thoothukudi to whom a great debt of gratitude is owned. This work would not have been possible without his continuous support of my Ph.D study and research, for his motivation, enthusiasm and immense knowledge. His guidance helped me in all the time of research and writing of this thesis. I could not have imagined having a better guide and mentor for my Ph.D study. Under his guidance i successfully overcome many difficulties and learned a lot. I can’t forget his hard times. His patient perusals of the manuscript, his stimulating hints and suggestions have been mainly responsible for shaping my thinking into a thesis.

My hearty thanks are also due to Thiru.A.P.C.V.Chockalingam, secretary and Dr. C.Veerabahu, Principal of V.O.Chidambaram College, Thoothukudi for their constant encouragement and blessings.

I would like to express my thanks to Dr. R. NATARAJAN, Head, Research centre in Economics, V.O.Chidambaram College, Thoothukudi for his help and encouragement to complete my research work.
