ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

At the end of a herculean endeavour, a pleasant task remains, to sit back and reflect on all the pleasures and pains and acknowledge all efforts of all who made it possible for me to reach the milestone. Without their co-operation I would have been like a rudderless ship.

In a work of this magnitude, it is but natural to solicit help and co-operation from others. The most overwhelming help have generously come from my teacher and guide Prof.
M.L. Naik, Head, School of Studies in Life Science, Pt. R.S.S.U., Raipur (M.P.), for his valuable guidance, inspiring suggestions and constructive criticism, which enabled me to carry out the present work.

I consider it my sterling chance to acknowledge my sincere gratitude to all the faculty members Dr, V. Rai, Dr. S.K. Mishra, Dr. A.K. Pati, Dr. A.K. Gupta, Dr. A. Poddar, Dr. S.C.
Mishra, Dr. N. Gupta and Dr. V. Koche for their unfailing help, which I received on several occasions.

I am very much thankful and greatly indebted to Ms. Geeta Nair, without whose help these thesis would not have been completed.

I cannot express by mere words the constant support rendered to me by my colleagues Ms. Sangita Sharma, Mrs. Sanju Sinha, Mrs. Preeti Banerji and Mrs. Roma Thakur and last not the least Ms. Shashi Gupta and Ms. Shama Baig who have made it possible for me to reach this goal.

I also thank all the research scholars and office staff, who directly or indirectly helped to reach my goal.

I need words to thank Khan uncle, who had always remained a pillar of strength throughout my study I would fail my duties, if I don’t mention the tremendous encouragement and stirring support which I draw from my mother, I also take this opportunity to thank my Brothers and Sisters-in-law, sister and brother-in-law for the love and affection they have showered on me. I am also thankful to sweet Nikku and Dolly.

Last but not the least, I grateful to my niece, for the tender affection which I received from her. Living in this strange world ruthless ambition and greed rule the day, her sparkling eyes and innocent smile reminds me that all is not lost as yet.

I acknowledge my thanks to University Research Fellowship for financial support.
