Acknowledgement

This dissertation would not be possible without the support and motivation of many mentors, co-workers, friends, and loved ones. While I can not list everyone, I would like to thank the following people who have helped me succeed.

I would like to thank my Adviser Dr. M. D. Deshpande and Co-Adviser Prof. D. G. Kanhere for their support, understanding, patience, motivation and guidance throughout my Ph. D.

I would like to extend my deep gratitude towards my collaborators, Prof. Vijay Kumar and Prof. Ravindra Pandey for their support, motivation and guidance. HOD of Dept. of Physics, University of Pune for giving permissions to carry out research work and providing necessary facilities. I would also like to thank Dr. Anjali Kshirsagar for her kind support.

I would like to acknowledge Prin. V. N. Suryavanshi, HOD’s of Dept. of Physics, H. P. T. Arts and R. Y. K. Science College, Nashik for giving permissions to carry out research work and providing necessary facilities. Teachers and staff of H. P. T. Arts and R. Y. K. Science College, Nashik for help, support and motivation. Specially, Dr. D. L. Lalsare for helpful discussions.

I would like to thank everyone in Prof. Kanhere’s research group, past and present especially Dr. Chacko, Bhalchandra, Vaibhav, Dhani, Aniruddha, Ideh, Deepashri, Prachi, and Soumyajyoti for helping me during my stay in Pune.

I would also like to thank Prashant, Brahmadev, Sharan and Vasudev members of Prof. Vijay Kumar’s research group and his family members for kindly helping me during my visits at Gurgaon. I would like to thank Vijay Kumar Foundation (VKF) for providing local hospitality at Gurgaon. I am also thankful to Sachin Nanavati for his help in the calculation of optical properties.

I would like to acknowledge DST, Govt. of India and CSIR, New Delhi for financial assistance.

I would also like to acknowledge CDAC, Pune and Bangalore for providing supercomputing facilities to pursue my work.

I would also like to thank my colleague cum friend Vasundhara for being a part of this uniquely rewarding experience.

My all friends, especially Rahul, Arun, Mahesh, Nilesh, Dhananjay, Vikram, Dinesh, and others and my cousin Jayesh were always their to encourage me throughout my life. I owe all of them.

Finally, I would like to thank, my younger brothers Jaywant and Vishal, all my cousins and my Uncles and Aunts for being kind and supportive to me.

Lastly, and most importantly, formally I wish to express my deep gratitude towards my parents, who are always supportive to all my life decisions. To them I dedicate this thesis.
