ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

It is my greatest pleasure to express my deep sense of gratitude to Dr. S.K. Kiran Kumar, Professor of Clinical Psychology, Department of Studies in Psychology, University of Mysore, for accepting to guide me for the Ph.D. Degree. Without his guidance it would not have been possible for me to bring out this research as a reality. I am indebted to him for what he has taught me and for his encouragement, keen interest as well as precious suggestions and guidance throughout the period, which prompted me to complete the thesis within stipulated period.

I am also grateful to the successive Chairman of the Department of Studies in Psychology, namely, Professor Mewa Singh and Professor G. Venkatesh Kumar, for providing me the necessary facilities to carry out my research work in the Department and for their valuable support throughout my study period.

I place on record my sincere thanks to Dr. P. Prakash, Professor of Psychology, Department of Psychology, University of Mysore, for his kind cooperation and valuable suggestions during my work. Further, I thank all other members of the Faculty, Department of Studies in Psychology and staff for providing all the facilities for the completion of this work.

I am grateful to Dr. Lancy D'Souza, Senior Lecturer, Department of Psychology, Maharaja's College, Mysore, for his suggestions and help in the analysis of data.

I am also grateful to Mr. V. Rangachari, Department of Studies in Psychology, University of Mysore, for his cooperation in typing this thesis and valuable suggestions.

I am indebted to Professor T. S. Sathyanarayana Rao, Head of the Department of Psychiatry, J. S. S. Hospital, Mysore and his colleagues for helping me in data collection. I also thank Dr. A. Ghalahiha, Head of the Department of Psychiatry, Sina Hospital, Hamadan University of Medical Sciences, Hamadan, Iran, and Dr. A. Farhadinasab, Psychiatrist for their help in collecting data from Iranian sample.

I would like to thank Dr. Sharada Prasad (Retired), Professor, University of Mysore, India and Dr. M. Vahabian, Lecturer, Hamadan University of Medical Sciences, Iran, for their valuable help in translating the Questionnaires to native languages viz., Kannada and Persian.

My sincere regards to the Ministry of Health and Medical Sciences, Tehran, and Hamadan University of Medical Sciences, Iran, for awarding me...
Fellowship and enabling me to pursue research work leading to the doctoral degree.

I am thankful to the First Secretary and Director, Dr. M. Kafi (Present) and Dr. E. Hajizadeh (Former), Science and Education Section, Embassy of Iran, New Delhi, for their support.

I would like to thank the Librarians of the University of Mysore, National Institute of Mental Health and Neurosciences, Bangalore, India, and Tehran Institute of Psychiatry, Iran for permitting me to utilize the facilities.

Last, but not the least, I wish to profusely thank my wife and two sons for their solid support and encouragement throughout my research, even at the cost of personal sacrifices as they were living far from me for a long time.

(AHMAD HEIDARI PAHLAVIAN)