Acknowledgements

It gives me immense gratification to render my sincere gratitude to my PhD Supervisor Dr. Satya B. Paul, Reader, Department of Chemistry and COE, Assam University, Silchar, who has helped me exceedingly in the field of scientific research and maneuver the route of my carrier. I am grateful to him for his excellent direction, teaching, generous guidance, freedom and friendship, understanding and humility throughout the tenure of the Ph.D. work. The work could not have been accomplished without his help, patience, generosity and good will.

It is a matter of great pleasure to record my deep sense of indebtedness to my PhD Co-Supervisor Prof. Nandiraju V. S. Rao, Department of Chemistry, Assam University, Silchar for having me introduced to the field of “liquid crystals”. His enthusiasm, energy and alacrity of thought were a source of inspiration and motivation to walk-through the arena of mesogens.

I would like to take the opportunity to express my heartfelt gratitude to Dr. K. Hemachandran, Prof. of Computer Science and Dean, School of Physical Sciences, Assam University, Silchar and Dr. M.R.Islam, Prof. and Head, Department of Chemistry, Assam University, Silchar for providing me the necessary infrastructure to carry out the work.

I would also like to convey my gratefulness to Dr. Chira R.Bhattacharjee, Reader, Department of Chemistry, Assam University, Mr. Paritosh Mondal, Dr. Manoj K. Paul and Dr. Sk. Jashimuddin, Lecturers, Department of Chemistry, Assam University, Mr. Suranjan Roy, Head, Department of Chemistry, Cachar College, Silchar for their helpful suggestions and encouragement during entire course of this work.

I am highly grateful to Dr. Ramendu Bhattacharjee, Head, Department of Physics, AUS, Dr. Indrajit Sarma, Department of Physics, AUS, Dr. Manobendra Dutta Choudhury, Department of Life Science, AUS and Dr. Supryo Chakraborty, Head, Department of Biotechnology, AUS, for their help and encouragement.
I am indebted to Prof. T.R. Rao, Department of Chemistry, Banaras Hindu University, Varanasi, Prof. K.C. Mazumdar, Department of Chemistry, University of Kalyani, Kalyani and Dr. A. T. Khan, Department of Chemistry, Indian Institute of Technology, Guwahati, Dr. Manoranjan Kar, Indian Institute of Technology, Guwahati, for their valuable suggestions and helpful discussions. I am thankful to BHU, Varanasi, I.I.T., Guwahati and KU, Kalyani, for providing the experimental facilities in obtaining the spectral data.

I would like to acknowledge Mrs. NVS Anantalaxmi and Mrs. (Dr.) Mukta Paul for their loving care and motherly attitude which smoothed the hard track of the practical world.

The most important people during these days have been my friends and colleagues, Dr. M. K. Paul (Lecturer, Department of Chemistry, AUS), Mrs. V. Padmini, Mr. Zia Uddin, Mr. Rajdeep Deb, Mr. Trirup D. Choudhury of Department of Chemistry, AUS, Mr. Nilasish Paul of Department of Chemistry, KU, Mr. Partha P. Bhattacharjee of Department of Life Science, AUS, Mr. Abhijit Nath, Lecturer in Chemistry (and his vintage yet fully operational assembled Computer), Mr. Uday S. Chakraborty, Lecturer in Mathematics, Mr. Pinak P. Nath Choudhury, Lecturer in Zoology, of S. S. College, Hailakandi, Khukan Kanti Debnath, Manna Dhar and many others. My sincere thanks are due to all of them.

I am thankful to Technical and non-teaching staff of the Department of Chemistry, Assam University, Mr. P. R. Ramesh, Mr. S. Bhattacharjee, Mr. B. Nath, Mr. A. A. Barbhuiya, and Mr. Sujit Bhattacharjee for their kind cooperation and technical support.

I am thankful to teachers and students of Department of Chemistry, S.S. College, Hailakandi, for their moral support.

The soul driving force behind the work is the love, affection, interest and inspiration of my Maa, Baba, late Didima and other family members without which it was unfeasible for me to carry out the work.

(Sudip Choudhury)