ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

Always I have cherished a sort of special feeling to gratefully acknowledge those who have generously supported me in life.

The completion of any academic work is inconceivable without the expert guidance of its mentors. Words, therefore fail to express my deep and profound gratitude to reverend Dr. Y.C. Chopra and Dr. R.S. Prasad.

I present this dissertation with a sense of gratitude to my esteemed guides Dr. Y.C. Chopra, Professor and Head of Electronics & Electrical Communication Engg. Deptt. Punjab Engineering College, Chandigarh (Retd.) presently Prinicipal, Swami Devi Dyal Institute of Engineering & Technology, Barwala and Dr. R. S. Prasad, Asstt. I am extremely grateful to them for their sagacious and illuminous guidance, high spirit, unfailing, untiring help and constructive criticism during the entire course of work without which, it could not have been possible to bring this dissertation into its present form.

I am deeply indebted to Dr. Y.C. Chopra who despite being highly preoccupied always took lively interest, gave encouraging, wise and sound consultations during the preparation and final completion of this thesis.

I am also thankful to Dr. R.S. Prasad as his comments on each chapter both at the stage of planning and arrangements were in the form of fresh thought, giving clues to approach the same aspect from a different perspective.
I feel really previleged to have had the opportunity of working under such prudent experts and guides.

My deep sense of appreciation is due for my family members for their moral support, love and affection, silent sacrifices and incessant encouragement which enabled me to keep going throughout.

I am extremely beholden to my husband who stood as a pillar of strength for me with unending faith and empathy.

I am not able to find words to express my feelings for my two little sons who were really deprived of their mother’s attention and care for a considerable period but whose love never wavered.

It is indeed to say that all may not have been mentioned but none is forgotten.

FINALLY, I GENUFLECT TO THE ALMIGHTY FOR THE INNATE IMPETUS.
