ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

Writing acknowledgement is one of the most exciting parts of the thesis. It provides with a sense of relief that you are about to wind up the project you have been struggling with for quite a long time. The list of the people I am indebted to as far as completion of this project is concerned, is really long and may exceed the format. To begin with, I would like to express my heartfelt gratitude to my Supervisor, Professor Akshaya Kumar, without whom this project would have never been completed. His extensive knowledge on the subject, his passion for poetry (sometimes intimidating though) helped me sail through.

Another very important person I would like to extend my gratitude to is my Granduncle, Professor Arjun Dev, who kept me motivated and helped me in my visits to various libraries across Delhi. His personal encounters with the select poets of the research gave me a feeling of the topic being close home. His personal encounters with the poets made me feel alive with these poets especially Faiz Ahmed Faiz, with whom he shared close associations. His fondness and passion for both poetry and persona of Faiz Ahmed Faiz and of course his perpetual disagreement with the religious dimensions of progressive poetry, all of it helped me delve deeper into the subject.

I would also like to extend my gratitude to the library staff of Sahitya Akademi: New Delhi, Ghalib Academy: New Delhi, Jamia Milia: New Delhi and Panjab University: Chandigarh who cooperated with me in my visits to these libraries.

This Journey has been a long one which made me undergo various shifts in my roles as well. I evolved from a beloved to wife, a daughter to daughter-in-law and from being a wife to a mother. I thank everyone who has been a part of this journey (my parents and in-laws) who accommodated with me in moods of extreme exasperation and helplessness. In this regards, I extend special thanks to my husband, Amit who bore with me in rough times and aided me in all possible manner, sometimes being my typists, cook and chauffeur.

I dedicate this thesis to my Grandfather (Lt. Shri. Krishan Chowdhary) who nurtured the love for shayari in me. I still remember him reciting the shier:

\[ \text{Girte hain sheh sawaar hi maidan-e jung main! Woh tifl kya gire jo ghutno ke bal chale.} \]

I have myself stumbled many times during this project but every time stood up cheerfully remembering him and his favorite shier by Iqbal:

\[ \text{Khudi ko kar buland itna ki har taqdeer se pehle/ khuda bunde se ye pooche ki yata teri raza kya hai.} \]

I also wish to thank my mother, Sharda Chowdhary and my uncle, Ashok Kumar who helped me in all possible ways when the wind was against me. My son, Agastya not directly but definitely helped me as he was the driving force behind timely completion of this project.

[Signature]

Supriya Chowdhary