ACKNOWLEDGMENT

In the name of God, the most Gracious, the most Merciful. All the praises and thanks are due to God, the Lord of all that exists. There were many times during my journey to become a PhD researcher that I wondered if I could stand being awake one more hour or if I could write just one more paragraph. It was without a doubt one of the most challenging times in my life and I would not have been able to make it through had it not been for the help of God, first, and the support of many around me. I am eternally grateful to the Almighty God for His immeasurable wisdom, strength, guidance and grace that have brought me this far. During the course of my PhD project, a number of people made important contributions through advice and encouragement.

First of all, I would like to thank my sincere appreciation and gratitude is dedicated to Professor (Dr.) Jai Narain Sharma for his continuous support, sacrifice, positive influence, and inspiration throughout my doctoral studies. It has been indeed a proud privileged honour and an opportunity for me to work under the guidance of Professor Jai Narain Sharma, Professor & Former Head Department of Gandhian and Peace Studies, Panjab University Chandigarh. I would like to extend my sincere appreciation for the positive contribution of timely efforts, guidance, and suggestions of my research committee member and co-supervisor, Dr. Ashu Pasricha. I am short of words for her to acknowledge the positive attitude shown towards the completion of the work.

I am thankful to Professor M. L. Sharma, Chairman, Department of Gandhian and Peace Studies, Panjab University, Chandigarh and Dr. Manish Sharma for all encouragement and support.

I would like to thank all my teachers for their judicious and scholarly guidance, continued and active interest, sustained encouragement, constructive criticism and sagacious counseling at every stage of my study and without those support this thesis would not have materialized.

I would also like to express my deepest gratitude to my Advisors, Prof. V.M. Rao and members of my advisory committee, Professor Emeritus Surya Kant Sharma and faculty members of the Post Graduate Department of Economics University of Kashmir, Dr. Imitiyaz Ul Hagh, and Dr. Effat Yasmin, and Shahziya Wani, Professor Ramesh Chand. Dr. S.S. Rajoo National Centre for Agriculture Policy
Making (NCAP), New Delhi for their thoughtful and relevant advice, counseling, time and the hard work they put in to help make this dissertation a masterpiece.

I would like to acknowledge the assistance of Agriculture Insurance Company of India (AIC) New Delhi and the Post Graduate Department of Economics University of Kashmir, Professor G.R. Jan, President of the Center for Central Asian Studies, University of Kashmir, Institute of Kashmir Studies, Dr. B.R. Lachotra, Directorate of Economics and Statistics Planning and Development Government of Jammu and Kashmir (DES), the Chairman of Department of Political Science University of Kashmir, Professor, N.A. Baba, for his guidance, relevance consulting and support, and all the help in this research. Their contributions in the form of invaluable information and funding are very much appreciated. I am sincerely thankful to my dear brothers Kayvan, Kiumars, Ismaeel, Ibrahim Bozorgi and those families, for their love, prayers and encouragement which helped to sustain me throughout the Program.

I am thankful to Professor G.M Bhat, Head of Post Graduate Department of Economics University of Kashmir for his kind help for collection of data and for the arrangements of meetings with the office of the Honorable Minster of Agriculture Government of Jammu and Kashmir Shri Gulam Hassan Mir. Thanks for the kind support I always had whenever I needed.

I would like to thank Mr. Yugraj Sharma and his family, Mr. Faqir Chand Bhanot for helping me at my initial stage of my research work and encouraged me throughout.

I would like to thank the people of Jammu, as well as Kashmir for their support during my first field visit. Finally, my deepest thanks to the farmers of India, particularly those in Jammu and Kashmir State, who opened their hearts and their homes to me, welcoming me like a family member and providing me with the inspiration for this work.

On the successful completion of my Ph.D thesis, I express sincere gratitude to my distinguished supervisor in Iran, Dr. Mohsen Rezaee, Dr. Kazem Yazdani and Mr. Ali Naghi Mosavi for there judicious and scholarly guidance, continued and active interest, sustained encouragement, constructive criticism and sagacious counseling at every stage of my work.
I owe immense gratitude to Ebrahim Kamaei and his families, whose keen perception, pieces of advice, words of inspiration and immense knowledge enabled me to accomplish this work.

I am highly thankful to my Indian Relatives, Mr. Kamal Gutam, Professor Malik, Colonel S.S. Gill and Professor K. S Rana for their kind cooperation, sincerity and affection during my research work.

I will be failing in my duty if I do not acknowledge my profound thanks to my betters and dear Professors, Professor David Grayvett, Professor Dariuosh Hayati, Professor Mohammad Afshar and Dr. Bagher Bhardar, Bahram Tajdini, for their kind support, patience, valuable suggestion and ever smiling faces, which motivated me in all circumstance to finish my thesis.

My thanks are due to my best friends, Dr. Ramesh Sagel, F.C. Sharma, Majid Fallah, Hessam Rahbari, Ghaseem Mayah, Mehdi Vojodi, Abbas Mokhtari and his Family, Masoud Ghorban Hosseini, Mohammad Ghadamayari, Vajih Bageri for helping me in the arduous task of moving around for collecting the necessary material and complete my research.

I am also grateful to the Librarian, A. C. Joshi Library, Panjab University, Chandigarh for helping me in procuring the relevant material for my study. Facilities provided by The British Library, Chandigarh, State Library, Chandigarh, Allameh Eqbal Library, Sri Nagar and The American Library, New Delhi, Panjab Agriculture University Library, Ludhiana, Indian Institute Advance Studies, Shimla, Himachal Pradesh University, Library, Shimla ,Panjabi University Library, Patiala are acknowledged with thanks.

At this juncture, I also would like to thank the Almighty who has given me strength to complete this research work.

No mention of gratitude would be complete without recognizing the people who enabled me to be where I am today; my parents Hossein Ali Khan Bozorgi and Banoo Agha Sultan Bozorgi for helping me to realize myself. They both have been a substantial source of love and support throughout my life, and have stood by me no matter what endeavor I have undertaken. Words alone cannot express the love and appreciation I have for them. May God be pleased with them and bless them, and give them the best reward in this life and in the hereafter.

I would like to express my deepest gratitude to all non-teaching members Mr. Mangal Singh, Mr. Parveen Kumar, Mrs. Suman Kumari, Mr. Baldev, Mr. Ramkrishan Kumar and Librarian Mrs. Vandana of Department of Gandhian and Peace Studies for their kind support and encouragement.

At this juncture, I would like to thank the Lord who has given me strength to complete this research work.

Kiyanoush Ghalavand
Chandigarh, India

15/5/2013