Acknowledgments

First and foremost, I would like to thank my Supervisor Prof. Nandiraju V. S. Rao for taking me with him and offering everything I need for my thesis: chemicals, lab equipments, publications, moral and financial support. His energy, dedication, and enthusiasm have been indispensable in keeping me motivated throughout my PhD. His ever-present guidance and prodigious support regarding matters academic and beyond have been central in enriching my academic as well as personal life.

It is my honour and pleasure to express my sincere gratitude to Prof. S. B Paul and Dr. Chira R. Bhattacharjee for their guidance and advice. I also value influence of other faculty member of the department, Prof. M. R. Islam, Dr. M. K. Paul, Dr. P. Mandal, Dr. Sk. Jasimuddin and Prof. K. Hemachandran from Department of Computer Science.

My thanks are due to our international collaborator Prof. Tuluri Francis; Prof. I. I. Smalyukh, Prof. Joe E. Maclellan and Prof. N. A. Clark. I also want to express my gratitude to the professors that went out their way to provide assistance, Prof. T. R. Rao; Prof. K. A. Suresh; Prof A. T. Khan and Prof. K. C. Mazumder.

Of course nothing would function in the lab without our staff P. R.Ramesh S. Bhattacharjee, Biswajeet Nath, Alamda and Zamilda. Biswajeetda especially, he has been instrumental in making things work for me despite all kind of difficulty.

I would like to acknowledge the financial support from DST, India for providing me a fellowship to carry out the work in my host institute; DRDO, DAE, ICAM-I2CAM, USA, which supported my work at LCMRC, University of Colorado at Boulder; SPIE, USA and ICAMP, China.

I would like to express my great thanks to Prof. A. K. Sil and Dr. S. S. Dhar of NIT, Silchar for their help and support.

I also want to remember contribution of my fellow friends, without them this experience would have been incomplete: Trirup; Rahul; Gobinda and Nirmalangshu with them I spent most night of academic endeavour here, we argued endlessly on topics ranging from chemistry to the liquid crystal to all the Bollywood new releases. Additional thanks are due to Atiqur, Lopa, Rahul, Dipika, Gude and Saumen. Nilasishda from KU, Kalyani needs special mentioned for his help and support.

-XIII-
The class of Post Graduate students with whom I entered Assam University, especially Manna, Prabir, Laxman, Mombita, Sipra and particularly Sabyasachi who have been my friends and room-mates during my PG career. They formed a tight-knit community during and beyond the classes and the comprehensive exams.

I owe to Mrs. N. Ananta Laxmi for her motherly support and encouraging me in many ways. Thanks are also due to Nagesh and Deepti for their help in making my trip to States smooth.

In this small span of the journey of my life I have come across so many people who have help and influenced me a lot in their own way. The interactions with each of them were unique learning experience for me. It’s hard to mention the name each individuals but I fill they have played their part in making me and their contributions need to be acknowledged.

The members of my family deserve the most recognition for the completion of the thesis. They have sacrificed so much to see me through my counting education: my parents, uncle, my younger brother and sister. My most heartfelt thank goes to Miss Sangita Das for being with me over the years. Other individual, considered to be part of our family should likewise be acknowledged: Mr S. D. Jha, who has part of our family in times of celebration and rougher times.
