ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I take this opportunity to express my thanks to Dr. Jatinder Dutt Sharma, Reader in Physical Chemistry, Department of Chemical Engineering and Technology, Panjab University, Chandigarh, for suggesting me this work. I am deeply indebted to him for his able guidance, valuable suggestions, helpful criticism and encouragement he gave me throughout the tenure of my work.

I am grateful to Dr. Tejwant Singh, Associate Professor, Punjab Agricultural University, Ludhiana, for the interest, he took in the formulation and solution of mathematical problems involved in my work.

My sincere thanks are due to Mr. S. Sivagaminathan, Scientist, Central Scientific Instruments Organisation, Chandigarh, for his help and guidance in assembling the electronic equipment used in my work.

I am also thankful to the Council of Scientific and Industrial Research, New Delhi and Panjab University, Chandigarh for providing me the necessary finances and research facilities.
