ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

The research work presented in the Thesis was made possible through generous grants given by the Indian Council of Agricultural Research over a period of four years. I am grateful to the Council for their generous support.

The work was carried out at the Southern Regional Station of the National Dairy Research Institute. Dr. C.P. Anantakrishnan, Head, SRS and Dr. D. Sundaresan, Director, NDRI, have been kind enough to extend the required facilities and assistance needed. I am grateful to them.

The work was planned and executed under the supervision and able guidance of Dr. N.N. Dastur, Emeritus Scientist (ICAR). I am very grateful to him; from time to time the progress of the work was reviewed by the Standing Committee of the Council and valuable guidelines given;

Dr. M. Bhimasena Rao, Research Officer (Chemistry), Dr. S.N. Anantaramiah, Research Officer (Bacteriology), Dr. K. Venkateshwara Rao, Research Officer (Biochemistry), Dr. S.R. Sampath, Research Officer (Animal Nutrition), Dr. M.S. Chawla, Animal Nutritionist, Mr. S.P. Thomas, Superintendent (Dairy), and the staff in these sections extended valuable co-operation in day to day work;

Mr. T.V. Arunachalam, Mr. B.V. Bhaskar, Mr. M.C. Venkatachar and Mr. N.V. Chandrasekhar have given valuable help in the collection of milk and blood samples;

Professor N.C. Ganguli, Head, Division of Dairy Chemistry, took keen interest in the project work and helped in various ways including supply of samples of required materials;
Dr. M.K. Ramamurthy and my colleagues Miss M.V. Chandravadana and Miss P. Lalitha have extended me very valuable help;

I had the privilege of discussing the progress of the work from time to time with Professor H.R. Gama and Mr. Ranjit Pal, of the Department of Biochemistry, Indian Institute of Science, Bangalore;

the Librarians and staff at this Centre, NDRI Karnal, Indian Institute of Science, Bangalore, the University of Agricultural Sciences, Bangalore, were helpful in providing required facilities;

Mr. K.N.S. Sharma, Statistician, and Mr. D.K. Jain, Demonstrator in the Division of Economics, Statistics and Management, NDRI, gave valuable help in the statistical analysis and interpretation of data collected;

I record my gratitude to my colleague Mr. E.G. Jagannath for the invaluable help given on innumerable occasions and to Mr. B.R. Seshadri for the prompt and excellent typing of the thesis;

the valuable assistance received from all these sources is much appreciated and gratefully acknowledged.

My parents and the members of my family have been my sustaining force throughout the course of this study, to whom this thesis is dedicated.
