ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The author wishes to express his deepest sense of gratitude to Dr. R.C. Meir, formerly Principal, Dairy Science College, National Dairy Research Institute, Amravati and presently Dean, Faculty of Veterinary and Animal Sciences, Karnal Agricultural University, Haryana, for his inspiring guidance, helpful criticism and constant encouragement throughout the study.

The author is equally grateful to the advisory committee members, Dr. D. Sundaresan, Director of Dairy Research, Dr. H.C. Ganguli, Head, Division of Dairy Chemistry, Dr. C.R. Balakrishnan, Research Officer, Division of Dairy Cattle Genetics, Dr. R.S. Vande, Biochemist, Division of Dairy Chemistry and also to Dr. R. Nagercencar, Head, Division of Dairy Cattle Genetics, National Dairy Research Institute, Amravati for their helpful suggestions, sustained interest offered in the preparation of synopsis and also providing facilities during the course of study.

The author is grateful to Indian Council of Agricultural Research, New Delhi for the grant of I.C.A.R. Senior Fellowship and also to the Director, Institute of Agricultural Research Statistics and the staff of the Computer Centre, New Delhi for giving all the assistance to analyse the data in the Computer Centre.
The co-operation of Mr. K.G. S. Nair and other members of staff of National Dairy Research Institute, Karnal is highly appreciated.

Grateful thanks are due to Shri M.R. Crinivesan, Head, Division of Dairy Technology, Dr. M.P. Sethur and Shri K. P. Thakurdar, Division of Dairy Technology for their valuable suggestions and help rendered during the experimental work on processing characteristics of milk.

Sincere thanks are due to Shri K.N.S. Sharma, Senior Statistician, N.D.R.I., Karnal, Dr. P.N. Suresh, Head, Department of Statistics, College of Veterinary and Animal Sciences, Mannuthy, Trichur and to (my wife) Mrs. Vijayalekshmi, Statistician, S.V. University College, Tirupati for giving the statistical guidance during the period of study and for preparing the tables in the thesis.

Lastly, the author is highly indebted to his family members for the trouble taken and for their sustained patience during the period of his absence.

(B.T. JAIN)