Guru Brahma Guru Vishnu Guru Deva Maheshwara
Guru Saakshaat Param Brahman Tasmai Shri Guruve Namaha

Guru is Brahma who plants the qualities of goodness, Guru is Vishnu who nurtures and fosters the qualities of goodness, Guru is Maheshwara who weeds out the bad quality, Guru is Supreme Brahman, Salutations unto that Guru

I acknowledge with sincere gratitude, my parents, teachers, friends, my relatives and all my well wishers who wished my success in every walk of my life. My salutations to all who have assisted me throughout my studies at the Department of Studies in Computer Science, University of Mysore, Manasagangotri, Mysore.

I am indebted to my guide and supervisor Dr. D. S. GURU, for his enlightening guidance, encouragement and also for his most valuable and precious time he has spent with me. I vow my existence and interest in research to him. I thank him for accepting me as his candidate and giving me the privilege of working under his esteemed guidance. I am thankful and astonished for his ever fresh, enthusiastic and untiring commitment in research. This work is his blessings and vows its existence to his distinguished capabilities. Without Dr. D. S. Guru’s support both technically and morally, I would have not completed this endeavor. His diligent reading of my papers and my thesis, and his pursuit of completeness, taught me many lessons that will surely prove valuable throughout my life. My guide Dr. D. S. Guru, though appears to be a tough and disciplinarian, is more friendly, a person filled with humor and very caring too, which allowed me to express all my feelings openly and it had given me the liberty to sometimes even to the extent of fighting vociferously to convince most of the ideas. His guidance has helped me to learn many things in life apart from this research. He is not only my research supervisor but also my caretaker. He has trained and filled in me that courage and confidence that I can lead a confident and independent life anywhere. Finally, I would like to thank him for always being there to listen to my personal and professional dilemmas; I could always rely on his wisdom and experience for the best suggestions regarding these predicaments.

I am grateful to Prof. P. Nagabhushan for his invaluable suggestions for my improvement in both research and practical living. I thank him for permitting me to take up research activity in this department and initially providing me the financial support by taking me as a project associate under his proposed project.

I wish to express my thanks to my colleagues Dinesh R, Bapu B Kiranagi, H.S. Nagendraswmay and B.H. Shekar for all the help rendered during my stay in the department and a good company in the lab. They have wholeheartedly taken the responsibility of dropping me home safe in the late hours. I would also thank them for pointing out corrections, their suggestions to improve the appearance and readability of the thesis and also for their skilled help in structuring the thesis.

My mother, Smt. Sundarishwamy gave me constant encouragement throughout my studies. She being just a housewife kindled in me the light of desire for higher studies since my childhood and insisted me to pursue higher studies. Her unconditional belief in me, and her love helped me get through these past four years. My father Sri. Puttu Swamy stood always behind my success in every endeavor. He gave me all the freedom to take decisions on my own and made me so confident and strong to face all problems individually. I thank them for their blessings.

I also received additional support from my elder brother Praveen. My sister Kum. Babitha, though younger to me has encouraged me and supported me with all love and affection during the period of my research. My younger brother Rajiv always kept me happy and my elder brother Prashanth has also morally supported me during my research.

I am grateful to Sri. Shanthabasavaiah and Smt. Puttadevamma, the parents of my guide for their encouragement. I have always seen in their eyes the happiness at every upliftment in my research. Encouraging words and well wishes were also showered from my guide's brother Swami Prakash & his family Smt. Gangamani, his sisters and their families; Smt. Umadevi & Sri. Gurulingaiah, Smt. Kathyayini & Sri.
Gurupadappa and Smt. Mamatha and Sri. Somashekar. Chiranjivees Priya, Pooja, Thejaswini, Manju, Manu, Parvathi, Nireeksha and Sartak were always welcome change from my regular monotonic schedule. I am also thankful to Smt. Sunitha, the family of my guide for her care, hospitality and love in treating me as one of her family members. Her soothing words and encouragement to work hard cannot be forgotten. She was a good companion during the later half of my research. I am also thankful to Sri. Basavanna and Smt. Mala, the parents of Smt. Sunitha who used to flatter me with nice words.

My special thanks are due to Dr. G. Hemantha Kumar, Smt. L. Hamsaveni, Dr. Lalitha Rangarajan who supported morally and wished a good work and also Dr. Mallesh for his inspirations to continue research and his interest in delivering many useful things. I also take this opportunity to thank Lakshmi aunty, the family of Prof. P. Nagabhushan for her care and encouraging words to carry out a good work. My sincere thanks are also due to Sri. Ranga Suri who has supplied me the copies of some of the major research papers.

The research team in the department is very cordial and friendly. My special thanks are due to the respected elders Dr. Basavaraj Anami and Sri. Vasudev who always pampered me like a kid with chocolates. Dr. Basavaraj Anami was a person who could always understand my feelings and guided me to be on the right path. I would like to sincerely thank Sri. Kishore for his interest in reading my papers, thesis and suggesting corrections and also for his heart felt opinion about my work. I also thank Dr. Manohar Pai, and Dr. Murali for their good wishes. I would like to thank my contemporary researchers, Dr. Ramesh Babu, Dr. P. Shivakumar, Sri. Girisha, Mr. Nagesh, Mr. Naveen, Sri. Srikanta Murthy, Smt. Nagamani, Smt Bharathi for having kept me always invigorative. My fellow student friends Mr. Vikram and Mr. Manjunath have done a lot of tiresome work for me. I wish them both best of luck with their post graduate studies.

I am extremely grateful to Prof. Venkat Gudivada, for his interest, encouragement and wish for early completion of the work. I am thankful to Prof. Mohan Kanakanhalli for his nice words about my research work. I also acknowledge the PRIP lab, Michigan
State University, Michigan which has helped me indirectly for getting my thesis scrutinized through providing all the facilities to my guide Dr. D. S. Guru during his stay at Michigan.

I express my gratitude to Sri. Chikkanna for his support and wish for early completion of the work. I am also thankful for the encouragement from Sri. Nandakumar. My special thanks are to Srikanth, Madhu and Sridhar for their efficient hardware skills to keep the machines intact. I also thank Sudarshan and Mahadeve Gowda for providing access to the library books irrespective of the time. Nevertheless, the help rendered by other teaching and non-teaching staff members of the department is commendable.

I thank Mr. Suraj, Mr. Naushath and Mr. Manjumath Aradhya for their kind help at times. I also thank Mr. Veerbhadrappa for his good wishes for the early completion of the work.

I take this opportunity to thank my teachers, Sis. Roshan, Smt. Chandrakala and Padma Madam. My special thanks are to my friends Mrunalini and Yashoda who were mainly responsible for me getting into research. I also thank, my other friends, relatives and well wishers, Savitha, Prakash, Sujatha, Jagadish, Vasundhara, Nagasundara, Shyla, Anitha, Archana, Prathibha, Nataraj, Sudheer, Ramesh, Saroja aunty, Muddukrishna uncle, Josephine aunty, …

This research was supported in part by UGC sponsored major research project F.30-259/2004(SR).

Thank you everyone, who have helped me directly or indirectly in achieving this goal.
