ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

This research work like any other exploratory endeavour has been a product of collective efforts. A deep gratitude is therefore due to a number of people who have aided me in its completion. I would like to thank each and every person of Delhi police whom I met during the course of my field work. Every one of them, cutting across the ranks, has been very kind and helpful. It would not be feasible to make a mention of each one individually, nonetheless, particular thanks need to be given to those without whom it would not have been possible to finish my thesis. I would like to record my honest gratitude in the names of the individuals to whom I owe an exceptional debt. Foremost in my list are my supervisors Prof. S.L. Kaushik, Department of Public Administration, Panjab University, Chandigarh and Prof. R.K. Tiwari, Indian Institute of Public Administration, New Delhi. I am extremely grateful to them for their constant and unfailing guidance at every stage of my research.

I wish to pay a special thanks to Mr. Y.P. Singh, Assistant Director, Bureau of Police Research and Development. But for his immensely valuable suggestions, it would not have been possible for me to restructure my approach to the topic. He has also been instrumental in garnering the requisite data for my study. I would also like to thank Mr. Rohtas Singh, Staff Officer to Deputy Commissioner of Police, Police Training School, Jharoda Kalan for organising and streamlining my appointments and meetings with the police officials and trainees at the training centre. I am highly obliged to Mr. P.K. Loreng, Deputy Commissioner of the police, 4th Battalion and all the police personnel at the 4th and the 6th Battalions for sparing their precious time to apprise me on the progress of training courses. Thanks are also due to Mr. T.R. Kakkar, Commissioner of Police, Delhi., Mr. Ranjit Narayan, Additional Commissioner of Police (Prime Minister Security), Mr. Vasudev Rao, Deputy Commissioner of Police (Licensing), Mr. Dilip Nooravat, Vice Principal, Police Training School,
Mr. Rajan Bhagat, Assistant Commissioner of Police (Police Headquarters) and Mr. V.P. Singh, Assistant Commissioner of Police (Indira Gandhi International Airport), their support and assistance helped me to have an access to all the mandatory facts and figures required for the research.

A reverent gratitude needs to be paid to Prof. S.P. Verma for his much needed intervention and encouragement. I would also like to thank Dr. B.S. Ghumman, Chairman, Department of Public Administration, Panjab University for his support and assistance. Thanks are due to Prof. S.R. Maheshwari, Prof. S.N. Mishra and Dr. Jayatilak Guha Roy of Indian Institute of Public Administration for their enlightening views and comments. I am also thankful to the entire library staff of Indian Institute of Public Administration and Bureau of Police Research and Development for extending assistance whenever it was required. I am really grateful to Mr. Ashish Kumar Gupta who has taken immeasurable pains to do the computer work of my thesis.

I would like to thank the Indira Gandhi National Open University for granting me study leave for two years without which it would not have been possible for me to finish this work within the stipulated period. Sincere thanks are due to my colleagues Prof. Kapil Kumar, Prof. Pardeep Sahni, Dr. E. Vayunandan, Ms. Durgesh Nandini, Dr. Jagpal Singh and Mr. Saugato Sen for their unceasing help and cooperation.

I want to pay special thanks to Ms. Sushma Yadav, Ms. Chaitali Das, Ms. Shweta Mishra and Ms. Suneeta Gulati with whom I have regularly interacted at the Indian Institute of Public Administration and benefited immensely from their help. I am extremely grateful to my friend Ms. Uma Medury for accompanying me to different training centres and keeping a track of books and other relevant information on my topic.

I owe a special debt to my mother who has been a constant source of inspiration and support; I am truly beholden to her. I would also like to express a heartfelt gratitude to my sister, brother in-law, little nephew and all the relatives for exuding tremendous patience in bearing with my incessant mood swings throughout my research.

I dedicate my work to the memory of my father who always wanted me to strive towards my academic pursuits. His departed soul has been a guiding spirit throughout the protracted spells of confusion, cerebration and revelation.
