ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

It gives me profound pleasure to record my heartfelt gratitude to my erudite and revered guide Dr. (Mrs.) Pushpa Chaudhary, (Retd.) Reader, Department of Education, P.U., Chandigarh, for her sense of direction, constructive guidance, meticulous efforts and incessant encouragement for the completion of my work. I am much indebted to Late Dr. Iqbal Nath Chaudhary for his benevolent help, appreciation and co-operation.

I express my cordial thanks to Dr. Kohli, the former Chairperson of the Department of Education, P.U., Chandigarh, for providing the necessary research facilities, which enabled me to undertake the task. Help rendered by Dr. (Mrs.) Asha Gupta, Chairperson, Department of Education, P.U., Chandigarh is beyond description. My special thanks to Dr. Anand, for providing me relevant resource materials and necessary facilities in completing this research work.

My grateful acknowledgement is also due to Dr. G. S. Sodhi, who constantly provided me encouragement and help throughout the progress of this study. I have a deep sense of gratitude for Lecturer Dr. (Mrs.) Kirandeep Kaur for her ungrudging help and valuable suggestions.

A mention must also be made of my friends for their valuable and much needed encouragement in this research project. I must place on record a sense of appreciation and cooperation to the young students from various schools in Chandigarh, who responded to my long and elaborate questionnaires happily and willingly.

My special thanks to Mr. Mahendru, who deserves a lot of praise for helping me in tiding over the difficulties in the analysis of the data.
I feel immense pleasure in extending my heartfelt thanks to my mother, mother-in-law, father-in-law, brother, sisters and above all, my son, Harshit. Their contribution is unmatched, unparalleled and indescribable.

Dedication goes to whom I treasure above all else: My Late father Shri Surjit Singh. The invisible support, encouragement and blessings from the departed soul is beyond description.

Prominent place in the acknowledgement goes to my beloved husband Mr. Gurvinder Saini, who created conditions conducive to the completion of my work and showed immense patience in this respect. I am also thankful to him for his help in collection of data, discussion and for typing out the whole of my thesis with care and efficiency.
