ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

It would have been impossible for the author to complete this thesis but for the unrestricted use he was privileged to have of the late Sir Jadunath Sarkar's Library, containing one of the richest collections of historical works and manuscripts in India. Despite his extremely busy life, Sir Jadunath was generous enough to spare in 1986 some of his precious time to make available the manuscripts, and to give some very valuable suggestions. His comments in appreciation of the writer's efforts to his supervisor, Dr. Hari Ram Gupta, Professor of History, Panjab University, Chandigarh, were a source of constant encouragement to him. Sir Jadunath also recommended him to Dr. K.K. Qamuno, Professor of History, Lucknow University, who helped him with some more of the rarest manuscripts. The Librarians of the Khuda Baksh Library, Bankipur, Patna, the National Library, Calcutta, the Asiatic Society of Bengal, Calcutta, Fergusson College Library, Poona, and Panjab Archives Library, Patiala, are equally to be thanked for their valued co-operation and help.

Among other scholars of repute and friends who helped the writer are Dr. Vishav Bandhu, Director Vishveshvaranand Vedic Research Institute, Hoshiarpur, Prof. K.M. Maitra, Cataloguer, Asiatic Society of Bengal, Calcutta, Dr. Ganda Singh, Director of Archives, Pepsi, Mr. V.S. Suri, Director of Archives, Panjab, Mr. M.L. Khosla, Principal, Mahendra College, Patiala, Mr. Kirpal Singh Marang, Registrar, Panjab University Chandigarh, Mr. Amjad Ali Khan, LL.M., P.C.E., Mr. Joginder Pal Narwah M.A., and Dr. C.L. Sharma. The writer wishes especially to record his deep sense of gratitude to his friend Mr. R.D. Joshi, M.A., Indian Administrative Service, who helped him greatly in revising the type-

1. 1-Lake Terrace, Calcutta 13, 10th August, 1986

Dear Hari Ram, I have duly received all your letters, and have also given what help I could to Prof. B.M. Majjar. He impressed me favourably as a very earnest and hard working scholar, well up in Persian______________Yrs.

Ja