ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The author expresses his most profound indebtedness and deep sense of gratitude to Dr N.N. Pangotra, Reader, Department of Education, Panjab University, currently working as Joint Secretary, Education Reforms Commission, Punjab. But for his inspiring guidance and close supervision, this study could not have been possible. His research mind, scholarship and administrative acumen in matters of educational interest have stood the author in good stead in executing this comprehensive research.

To Dr S.B. Kakkar who till recently has taught postgraduate and doctoral classes both as a lecturer and later as a Principal in the Government Colleges of Education and has guided several Ph.D. studies, the author conveys his special gratefulness.

Thanks are also due to the subjects of this study for their willing co-operation and to the authors of various studies and books from which the writer has profusely quoted and drawn academic assistance.
Shri Sayal who has transcribed the manuscript into present typed script also deserves my thanks.

Last but not the least, I must express my deep sense of gratitude to my wife Mrs Mohinder Kaur who sustained me all through the study in various ways.
