Continuation of Studies to employed persons is a very difficult possibility, inspite of so many educational opportunities made available by the government today. As an officer in a Regional Transport Office of Karnataka, an interest in analyzing the problems and implications of transport development naturally developed in me.

It is the University of Mysore which provided me an opportunity of perusing my studies for doctoral degree as a part time candidate and there by realize my dream of becoming a catalyst, to the extent possible, of transport development and social change. Therefore, I am immensely grateful to the University of Mysore, and in particular to the Department of Sociology for directing my energies to peruse my research interest.

Dr. R. N. Hadimani, Prof. and chairperson of the Department of Sociology of the university of Mysore, Manasa Gangotri, Mysore, who then was deputed to the Karnataka State Women University, Bijapur is my Research Guide. His continuous encouragement, very critical remarks and convincing guidance were the source of inspiration, which stood by me all along the completion of the research work. It is a rare opportunity to get this kind of friendly, humanitarian and intellectual person to guide the research works. I am deeply indebted to him as well as to his family members.

Some officers at the helm of affairs in the Transport Departments Government of Karnataka, in particular Shri.M.C.Narayaranagowda, IAS. Hon’ble Transport Commissioner and Shri.T.Shyambhat,IAS Hon’ble Commissioner for Muzrai, (former Joint Transport Commissioner) and Joint Transport Commissioners, Deputy Transport Commissioners. All the Regional Transport Officers, Assistnt Regional Transport Officers and Senior Inspectors of Motor vehicle, Inspectors of Motor vehicle in the State. have been the persons whose unstinted moral support and friendly guidance I never forget. They need to be personally and sincerely acknowledged.

My teachers of the Sociology Department of the University of Mysore, namely Prof. R. Indira, Prof. Satyanarayana and Dr. B.S. Pareshkumar, who were also my well wishers, were kind enough to spare their valuable time whenever I approached them and sought some suggestions.

I am sincerely thankful to officers at the grass root level in Shimoga and Raichur districts, Teerthahalli and Devdurg taluks. Residents of Heddur and Ramdurg villages from the respective taluks need special mention for furnishing the necessary information and helping me while doing fieldwork.

I am thankful to members of my family such as Smt. Lalitha Ram (wife), Chi. J.R. Rajesh (son) and Miss. J.R. Manasarani (daughter), who wanted to see me coming out with flying colours in whatever examination I appeared. Their good wishes and physical and mental support helped me a lot and gave added strength to continue my work. I am grateful to these loving members.

I am also grateful to Miss Gouri, Miss Jyoti Joshi, Mr. K.B. Inamadar of the Karnataka State women’s University Bijapur for providing computer assistance and local guidance.
