First of all I owe an inexpressible debt of deep sense of sincere gratitude and gratefulness to my respected teacher and research guide Dr. B. Chandrashekhara Bhat, Dept of Linguistics, Mysore University for having taught me not only the research methodology but also guided and helped me in all the ways by giving his constructive insightful suggestions, invaluable stimulating guidance, immense encouragement and sincer interest shown towards me and the work and all personal care which enabled me to complete this study. I am very grateful to him.

I am also indebted to Dr. Francis Ekka, Professor-cum-Deputy Director, Central Institute of Indian Languages Mysore, for their useful valuable suggestions during the preparation of this thesis.

I like to express my gratitude to Dr. D. N. S. Bhat, Dr. K. Kampegowda, Dr. M. N. Javaraiah, Dr. Radhakrishnan, Dr. K. S. Gurubasavegowda, Dr. P. P. Giridhar, Mr. I. S. Borkar and Mr. M. C. Gangadhar for their useful kind help during the preparation of this thesis. And also offer my thanks to the teachers of the Department of Linguistics, whose teaching gave me the background for this analysis.

I would like to acknowledge to my all informants for their active co-operation in providing necessary data to this thesis.

And I am thankful to the Institute of Kannada Studies and Central Institute of Indian Languages and Mysore University Library for providing various facilities during the preparation of this thesis.

I am thankful to my wife for the vast patience showed towards me and her constant encouragement.
