ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

Whole heartedly I consider this as an opportunity and duty to express my deep sense of gratitude to Dr. P. Prakash, my guide and teacher, without whose efforts this work would have remained a dream. His enthusiasm, lively involvement and creative thoughts have been a constant source of encouragement, inspiration and support throughout. It will be a pleasurable experience to any one who does research under his supervision.

Likewise, my sincere thanks to Mr. Surendranath P. Nishanimut, founder, Samveda Training and Research Centre (R), Davangere, for his encouragement, co-operation, and active involvement in carrying out my research work throughout. Further I thank all the staff members for their co-operation and support and I am so kind of the children of Samveda Training and Research Centre.

My sincere thanks to Dr. Mewa Singh, Professor and Chairman, D.O.S. in Psychology, University of Mysore, Mysore, for his kind co-operation and valuable suggestions during my work. Further I thank all the staff of the department for their co-operation.

I am grateful to Dr. Lancy D’Souza, Lecturer, Maharaja’s College, Mysore, for his constant support and encouragement throughout my academic career being a care taker, and for his help in the analysis of data.

I am also grateful to Mr. V. Rangachari, D.O.S. in Psychology, University of Mysore, Mysore, for his valuable suggestions, moral support and proof reading of my thesis.
I am indebted to the Headmasters, Headmistresses, Teachers and the Students of Manasagangotri High School, Bhagini Sewa Samaj and Rotary West Mysore, for their kind co-operation and patience during the prolonged periods of data collection.

My sincere thanks to the Head of the Library and Staff, University of Mysore, Mysore, for their kind co-operation during my work.

My sincere regards to Prof. Ramaswamy and Dr. G Jayaram, for their kind encouragement and support.

My sincere regards to Mr. Doddaswamy, Mahesh and Linge Gowda, for their kind hospitality.

My sincere thanks to all my friends whose encouragement throughout the study remained as a constant source of inspiration.
